

Our Daily Bread

Sliced Thin by The Editor

Alex. H. Washburn

Defeat of Senator

Pepper Shows U. S.

Is Wide Awake

It's an easy matter to pin a defamatory label on a public man and then declare he ought to be "effected" for the good of the country, but it isn't always just, nor is it always successful.

The record shows, however, that in the case of Senator Claude Pepper of Florida the man got what was coming to him.

In yesterday's Florida senatorial election George Smathers of Miami, congressman and ex-Marine, knocked over Pepper by 50,000 votes.

The immediate campaign issues were the Taft-Hartley law, which Smathers voted for, and which Pepper opposed; the FEPC legislation, which Smathers fought—and deficit spending and national health insurance, on both of which questions Smathers attacked the president's program with Pepper presumably supporting it.

Efforts to make the Florida campaign a direct test of Mr. Truman's strength were wide of the mark, however, for the unpredictable Pepper frequently went so far to the left he was out of favor with the White House as much as his opponent was.

Actually, the Florida election was judgment upon individual men, their background, their record of past utterances, and what they campaigned for today. Pepper was a sea-going radical, an agitator in Florida, a friend and ally of Henry A. Wallace, a visitor to Moscow, and a praiser of all things Soviet Russia.

Time and events have turned upon Senator Pepper. He went down pretty badly in yesterday's election.

But no one uses good judgment when he ties his political career to ideas and men having their roots outside our own country. Americans are an impetuous people, but they also have the capacity for long memories and sound final judgment.

They gave Pepper a lot of rope—and he finally used all of it.

Bodcaw School Has Impressive History

By Mrs. Gladys Martin

The fourth annual banquet and reunion of the Bodcaw High School Alumni Association will be held at the Bodcaw school in Nevada county, Saturday night, May 6, at 8 p.m.

J. M. Camp, director of Veterans Vocational Training in the Stamps school district has charge of the program and will act as Master of Ceremonies. The program will include a roll call of the classes from 1897 to 1950, Highlights of Bodcaw school history, by Roy R. Tompkins, director of Extension work with the Okla. A & M college in Stillwater, a business session and election of new officers, and the benediction by Fred H. Ward of Stephentown.

There will be group singing led by Miss Ruth Turner and instrumental music by the Bodcaw Old Timers.

The Bodcaw school began in 1888 when stage coaches brought travelers and mail to the little settlement only once a week. In 1895, the Union Baptist Association of that district made plans for a bigger and better school to be known as the Union Baptist High school. Money was raised and pledged by all churches in the district. Bodcaw offered the greatest financial aid and was selected as the permanent location for the school. A two story frame building was erected on land donated by J. T. Vestal and T. K. Munin.

Later the Baptist Association transferred the school property to the Bodcaw School district. On Thanksgiving day, 1915 a tornado completely destroyed the frame building, but classes continued in churches and vacant buildings. In 1916, a $30,000 bond issue was voted, and the present attractive brick building was erected. The school became consolidated and accommodates several hundred students at present.

It is said that no other school in the state can equal the record of the Bodcaw school in its wide-spread constructive influence. Bodcaw graduates have been in active force in the political and professional life of the surrounding counties and states.

Aged Washington Negro Woman to Be Buried May 4

Mattie Flonory, aged 86, a Negro resident of Hempstead for 40 years, died at her home near Washington. She is survived by 4 sons, 3 brothers and 3 sisters. Funeral services will be held at Rising Star church in Hope on Thursday, May 4, by the Rev. N. Glover.

WEATHER FORECAST

Arkansas: Cloudiness this afternoon, tonight with showers. Thursday cloudy, showers.

Hope Star

51ST YEAR: VOL. 51 — NO. 168

Star of Hope 1899; Press 1927 Consolidated January 18, 1929

HOPE, ARKANSAS, WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 1950

(AP)—Means Associated Press (NEA)—Means Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n.

PRICE 5c COPY

Starzel Warns 'Go Slow' on Gambling Bill

Washington, May 3 —(AP)—Frank Starzel, general manager of the Associated Press, told senators today that it would be dangerous to approve anti-gambling legislation which would restrict the free flow of news.

"In principle," Starzel said, "it would be dangerous legislation." The AP executive testified before a senate commerce subcommittee which is studying a bill designed to ban transmission of gambling information across state lines.

Starzel said that such restrictions are applied to horse racing news and other sports—it is conceivable the bans might be extended to other news fields.

"You would be pursuing a course from which it would be difficult to turn back," Starzel added.

As the committee hearing continued, there were these developments in congress dealing with efforts to expose gambling and crime:

1. The senate took up a resolution by Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn) for a $150,000 crime investigation. Kefauver proposes a five-man special committee with authority to check on the operations of any crime syndicate and the influence of organized crime on law enforcement.

2. Chairman McFarland (D-Ariz) of the senate commerce group ordered an inquiry into a reported "phantom network" supplying horse racing information to distributors in many parts of the country. He linked the mystery network with testimony given by a Western Union official on the number of customers receiving racing news over Western Union's leased wires.

3. The house commerce committee continued its hearing on a senate-passed bill to bar interstate shipment of slot machines and other gambling devices. John E. Pickering, director of public relations for the coin institute, Chicago, urged the committee to exclude specifically non-gambling machines from the legislation. In his testimony, Starzel noted that pari-mutuel betting is legal in most states. He insisted it this news is legal in one state then it would be wrong in principle to put a prohibition on its transmission across state lines.

McFarland asked: "It is your opinion that any legislation that would restrict the transmission of news would be dangerous?"

"Yes," Starzel replied.

McFarland linked the mystery network with testimony given by a Western Union official on the number of customers receiving racing news over Western Union's leased wires.

City and state officials have identified continental press service of Cleveland, Ohio, as the major source of racing news which finds its way to the bookmakers.

But continental's general manager said that the transmission of news is legal in many states.

Continued on page Two

Rains Halt Field Work in Arkansas

Little Rock, May 3 —(AP)—General rains over the week-end have stopped practically all field activity on Arkansas farms.

The crop reporting service, in its weekly bulletin, said, however, that the rainfall was welcome in most areas. The precipitation was almost ideal for bringing up recently planted crops, breaking down heavy clouds, and providing badly-needed moisture for small grains, the service said.

'New Low in U. S. Politics' Cries Lattimore

Washington, May 3 —(AP)—In an angry outburst, Owen Lattimore told senators today that "a new low" in American politics had been struck by "an attempt to attack me through my wife."

Lattimore spoke out at the outset of his second consecutive day of testimony before a senate foreign relations subcommittee investigating charges by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) that the state department is infested by Communists and Red sympathizers.

His reference was to a question from Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) late yesterday as to whether Lattimore had addressed in 1943 a San Francisco labor school, listed as Communist by the California un-American activities committee.

Lattimore said he didn't know. Mrs. Lattimore, sitting with her husband, said she didn't recall. Today, Hickenlooper brought it up again. He inquired whether Lattimore and his wife had refreshed their recollection overnight as to whether Mrs. Lattimore had lectured at the Tom Mooney school. Lattimore said his wife recalls that she spoke at what she was told was a trade union school, as she did at various other places to various organizations.

Washington, May 3 —(AP)—Senators investigating a communist charge against Owen Lattimore—accusations he has angrily denounced as lies—called him back to the witness stand today for another round of questioning.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said in advance of the public session it would take him about an hour and a half to finish cross-examining Lattimore.

Senator Lodge (R-Mass) told reporters he prefers to question Lattimore behind closed doors. Lodge added he would fire away to some extent in public if he was outvoted on taking secret testimony. Hickenlooper got in about 30 minutes of quizzing late yesterday after Lattimore, far Eastern affairs authority and sometime consultant to the state department, had spent most of the day blasting at charges hurled by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) and ex-Communist.

Continued on Page Two

Many Families Lost Their Jims' to the War and They Will Never Get Them Back

By HAL BOYLE

Spokane, Wash., May 3 —(AP)—It was the time between the planes going and the planes coming and the old man wanted to talk.

And there I was, the nearest target on the next stool, sipping what probably was dream coffee the day before. That's been my trouble in life with girls and coffee. I get them when all they have left is grounds for complaint.

Well, anyway, as I was saying, I was sitting there and this gray-haired old-timer turned to me and said that in this day and world it was much easier to be a son than a father.

How many fathers have you been? I asked him, being slightly smart aleck, which is the only attitude I can face life with until noon.

"I have seven children, five of them still alive," he said soberly. "All sons, too. All my life I kept wanting a daughter and when I finally had one you know how long she lived—three days. Then she left us, and I still don't know why."

The old man munched his coffee a while, the way old people have a habit of doing, chewing everything fluid as if it had bones in it.

Of course, Jim is my problem now," he said. "I could retire if it wasn't for him."

"He was in the army and got hurt in Europe. Something hit him in front in the middle and went around in back and tore out his glands and his nerves. He's been paralyzed ever since from the waist down."

"I got 15 grandchildren from my other four boys, but none from Jim. I guess there won't be none from him now though he's happy married, I guess."

"You know, before the war, mom and I would be lying in bed at night, and Jim would come home from his date and snuggle between us as if he was still a little boy and tell us the fun he had. You know, a dad and a mom and a kid can't be closer than that, can they?"

And the old man stirred his coffee and looked at me as if I could help him and how could I?

"You know, we was buddies, real buddies," he said. "But since he's been home it's like living with a stranger. Jim won't talk about where he was hurt or how it happened to him. He lives all inside himself. He's cynical. He just doesn't believe in things anymore."

The old man took a freshener in his coffee, an old-fashioned nip with "thank you, ma'am" to the young waitress.

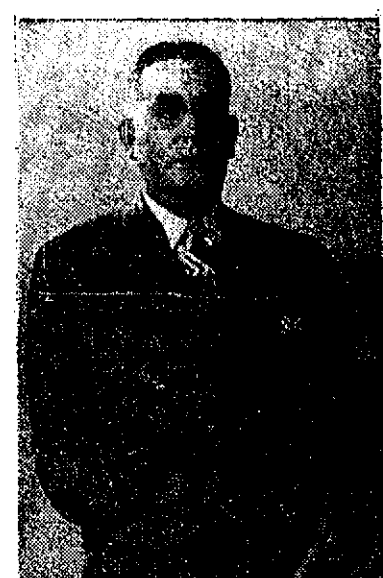

"You know, I didn't just take the word of the government doctors. I sent Jim to the Mayo brothers. But there isn't anything in the world that anybody can do, for love of God, sin or money, that will make him well again, and he knows it and I know it."

The voice box blurred out the announcement that the old man's plane was loading.

"You know, I never had a daughter that lived and I always wanted one," he said, getting up. "But Jim was the closest to us of all our boys. You know, he never drank or smoked or turned over our automobile, or caused us in the least bit of trouble in his whole life."

"He was the finest one we had and you know we've lost him. We've lost him. He still lives with us, but he's away from us. And I don't know how Jim ever going to get our boy back again."

And the old man went out to catch his plane. He sells floor polish for a living for him, for mom, and for Jim.

Charles W. Hackett

C. W. Hackett in Race for Prosecutor

Charles W. Hackett, Texarkana, (Ark.) attorney, today formally announced for prosecuting attorney to serve the eighth judicial circuit of Arkansas, composed of Hempstead, Lafayette, Nevada, Clark and Miller counties. Mr. Hackett had earlier filed his pledge required by state law and his Democratic party loyalty pledge and filing fee.

Mr. Hackett, in making his announcement expressed gratitude to the voters of eighth judicial district for the splendid vote he received four years ago when he went into the run-off Primary with the present prosecuting attorney in a four-man race. Mr. Hackett said: "I am deeply grateful for the splendid vote I received throughout the district."

"In entering this race, I am doing so with the full realization of the importance of this office and I feel that my many years of practice qualify me to make you an active and aggressive prosecuting attorney and if elected I promise you a rigid and honest enforcement of the law at all times, fighting for that which is right and opposing that which is wrong."

"I have had many hardships and tribulations in my life, and I think that these have given me a better understanding of human nature, a more mature judgment, and ability to cope with the problems confronting a prosecuting attorney."

"Four years ago I carried Miller county by a large majority but because of the substantial majority the present incumbent received in the adjoining counties, I withdrew and yielded the office to Mr. Pilkinton without a run-off; however, with the encouragement which I have received in these and adjoining counties I feel like the situation has changed in these counties and that it is now my time to serve you in this important office."

"I am a life-time resident of the city of Texarkana and have for many years been practicing law in this city. I have at all times been active in civic affairs and have at all times devoted time and money as well as effort to the advancement of the welfare of this community."

"For many years I have been licensed by the Supreme Court of the State of Arkansas, by the Federal Courts, and Courts of Appeal, and have made application and will be licensed by the Supreme Court of the United States during the present term of Courts. Recently I was elected by the Bar Association of Miller county, Arkansas, to serve as municipal judge during the absence of the regular municipal judge."

"I humbly solicit your vote and support and if elected to this important office I shall devote all the time necessary to the affairs of this important office and will try to see each of you personally and will discuss my candidacy with you before the coming primary."

Mrs. Ida McDaniel, widow of the late J. H. McDaniel, died early today at her home on East Third Street.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the First Baptist church by the Rev. S. A. Whitlow. Burial in charge of Herndon-Cornelius, will be at Mars Hill, near McKamie.

She is survived by five sisters, Mrs. Fordyce Butler and Mrs. Charles McClendon of Lewisville, Mrs. Clarence Colvin of McKamie, Mrs. Otis Brooks of El Paso and Mrs. Lillian Risher of Pelican, La., five brothers, Fred Lee of Hope, Ellis Lee of Canfield, Bob and Camp Lee of Stamps and Thel Lee of McKamie.

Mrs. McDaniel Dies at Home on E. Third

Mrs. Ida McDaniel, widow of the late J. H. McDaniel, died early today at her home on East Third Street.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the First Baptist church by the Rev. S. A. Whitlow. Burial in charge of Herndon-Cornelius, will be at Mars Hill, near McKamie.

She is survived by five sisters, Mrs. Fordyce Butler and Mrs. Charles McClendon of Lewisville, Mrs. Clarence Colvin of McKamie, Mrs. Otis Brooks of El Paso and Mrs. Lillian Risher of Pelican, La., five brothers, Fred Lee of Hope, Ellis Lee of Canfield, Bob and Camp Lee of Stamps and Thel Lee of McKamie.

Little Rock Rose Festival Starts Thursday

Little Rock, May 3 —(AP)—Little Rock, called "the City of Roses," will begin its second annual rose festival tomorrow.

Actor Dick Powell, a native of this capital city, is to take part in the celebration. A minor operation forced his wife, June Allyson, to cancel her plans to be here, too. The opening day of the festival will feature a flower show at Robinson auditorium and coronation of the 1950 rose queen. The queen will be selected by the Little Rock Business Mens club, the festival sponsor.

UN Head to Go to Russia on May 10

Paris, May 3 — United Nations Secretary-General Trygve Lie announced today he will fly to Moscow May 10 to try to persuade Russia to agree to a meeting of world leaders aimed at ending the cold war and averting a global catastrophe.

An obvious reference to former proposal to reorganize the U. N., without Russia and her satellites, Lie denounced any attempt to split the world permanently into two camps. Announcing his plans to a news conference, he said:

"When the United Nations was established in San Francisco, it was created as an organization for the entire world. Now it is pressed to split the world permanently into two camps."

"That road will harden existing divisions in the world, create new ones, perpetuate and accelerate the armaments race, make economic warfare a permanent condition, condemn all the poor and hungry in many parts of the world to remaining poor and hungry, bring the propaganda war and its accompanying hysteria to new depths of intellectual and moral degradation, and destroy the chance for agreement on control of atomic energy."

"There is only one possible end to that road—sooner or later a third world war."

"The other road is the United from a third world war instead of towards it."

Lie told the reporters he hopes to see Prime Minister Stalin and place before him the secretary-general's plan to have the U. N. security council meet with "heads of states and with cabinet members of all nations."

Homecoming Sunday at Macedonia

Sunday, May 7 will be the annual homecoming and decoration day at Macedonia church in the old Wallaceburg community with Rev. T. M. Armstrong a former Pastor of the church bringing the message at 11 o'clock. Lunch will be served at the noon hour. The afternoon will be devoted to Decoration of the cemetery, and gospel singing.

The public is invited to come and bring song books.

Washington Honor Graduates Are Announced

Mrs. T. V. Messer, principal, today announced honor graduates of Washington High school.

Billie Jo Hulsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hulsey is valedictorian of the 1950 graduating class. She is editor of the yearbook, president of the 4-H club, president of the class and co-captain of the basketball team.

Vesta Jean Saunders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Saunders, is salutatorian. She is secretary-treasurer of the senior class and co-captain of the basketball team.

Conference to Be Held Sunday at Washington

The Rev. E. D. Galloway, of Hope will preach at the Methodist church in Washington Sunday May 7, at 11 a.m. and will hold the Quarterly Conference at the conclusion of the service.

A revival meeting will begin at Columbus Methodist church Sunday night May 7. Rev. T. M. Armstrong, will assist the pastor Rev. W. C. Lewis, in this meeting.

Services Canceled

Prayer services scheduled for tonight at First Presbyterian church have been called off. Services will continue as scheduled next week.

Group Approves Higher S. S. Benefits

Washington, May 3 —(AP)—The senate finance committee today approved larger increases in social security retirement benefits than are provided in a house-passed bill.

At the same time it voted against any increase for the next five years in the tax rate that finances the system.

The committee estimated that under its proposals individual benefit payments in the next decade would average 110 per cent higher than under present law, compared to the 100 per cent increase provided in the house bill.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

The average basis benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $26 a month. This would be increased by the senate bill to about $40 a month, the committee said. As under the house bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

States Rights Group Trailing Pepper Beaten

Birmingham, Ala., May 3 —(AP)—The national party move to smash the States Rights revolt of Alabama Democrats was slightly favored today on mounting returns from yesterday's primary.

With about two-thirds of the vote in, it appeared that official tabulations May 11 might be necessary to determine whether control of party machinery had been wrested from those who led Alabama away from the Truman-Barkley ticket in 1948. Opposition to civil rights proposals was the reason.

The battle for party control centered on the state committee, made up of eight members from each of nine districts. Senators Hill and Sparkman led the fight for party loyalty.

At 9:30 a. m. (CST) tabulations gave national Democrats the lead for 39 places, States Righters for 32. One place, definitely decided, went to a man not committed to either side.

Birmingham, Ala., May 3 —(AP)—Late vote returns today held the key to national party efforts to smash the States Rights revolt.

With approximately half of the returns in from yesterday's bitter Democratic primary, the regulars and the States Righters were nearly even.

Their fight was for control of the state Democratic executive committee, made up of eight members from each of nine congressional districts.

The party loyalists led by Senators Lister Hill and John Sparkman were well ahead in three districts. States Righters topped the field in three others, one of them inconclusive, and committee places were split in the other three.

Hill won his bid for renomination, equivalent to election, against Lawrence McNell, Birmingham States Righter. With 119 of the states 2505 boxes in, the senate totals stood:

Hill 66,826; McNell 38,806. The state committee led the campaign in 1948 which gave Alabama's 11 electoral votes to the Truman-Wright States Rights ticket.

The issue then, as in the com. Continued on Page Two

Binaggio Put Heat on Us, Two Testify

Jefferson City, May 3 —(AP)—R. Robert Cohn and Hampton S. Chambers said flatly today that Charles Binaggio, slain Kansas City Democratic boss, put the heat on them as members of the Kansas City police board.

Cohn and Chambers were ousted as board members by Gov. Forrest Smith yesterday and replaced by two new appointees. Cohn said he would fight back with a court test of the governor's "despotic authority."

Today both were asked by newsmen if it were true that Binaggio had tried to interfere with police board affairs.

"Binaggio exerted pressure on me," Cohn said. He declined to go further at this time.

Asked if the pressure extended over a period of time and took different forms, Cohn said, "well, you know those boys are optimistic."

New Dealer Concedes to Rep. Smathers

Miami, Fla., May 3 —(AP)—Claude Pepper, who wanted to follow in the footsteps of Franklin D. Roosevelt, stood still in his political tracks today after Florida voters gave his U. S. senate seat to young George Smathers.

Smathers built up a 65,000 majority that surprised the experts who wouldn't risk more than an even money bet yesterday.

With most of the returns in, Smathers led in 45 of the 67 counties. Many

DOROTHY DIX Cruel Daughter-In-Law

Dear Miss Dix: I have the best mother in the world and I am devoted to her. She owns the house in which we live and to which I brought my wife when we were married a year ago. My wife knew all about the conditions, but I had to support my mother, and I urged her to wait for a few years until I was making more money before we married. But she insisted on an immediate marriage in order to escape unpleasant conditions in her own home. Since we have married, and although we are living in my mother's house, she treats my mother in the most dominating way and never speaks to her except to say something spiteful and cutting and as insulting that I am stunned. We have a baby and she will not even let mother touch it. My mother is amiable, sweet-tempered, and easy to get along with and is in no way at fault. What shall I do?

ALBERT

Answer: I know well enough what you should do, but unfortunately in our civilization we have evolved the theory that no man should raise his hand to a woman, save in kindness.

Tell Her Off

As that source of reformation closest to you, the best thing you can do is to tell your wife in the strongest language that you can summon that you have stood her outrageous conduct, just as long as you intend to and that she has either to behave herself or you will send her back to her mother that she was so anxious to escape. That will probably bring her to her senses. She doesn't want to leave her good home. She is trying to run your mother out of it.

It is a wonder that any woman who has a child of her own does not look ahead into the future and foresee that as she treats her mother-in-law her son's wife may treat her. Does your wife never think how bitter it would be to her if her son's wife insulted and reviled her without cause, if she made her old age lonely and desolate by driving her out of her own house?

Of all men in the world, none are more to be pitied than those who are torn between the two women they love, and especially are those to be pitied who see their wives breaking the hearts of their mothers and who are powerless to save the dear old gray heads from the sufferings inflicted by a virago.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a boy of 18 very much interested in a girl of 18. The other day she said to me: "I am going to get married. I don't want to be tied down. I want to get the run out of life." This has caused me much concern. Will she change this outlook? What shall I do?

C. D. Q.

Answer: Instead of disapproving of her you should applaud her for having enough sense not to want to marry at 18. She knows she isn't ready to marry then, that she hasn't seen enough of the world and known enough boys to be able to pick out a mate. She knows that she is a child still, with a child's changing tastes, and that the boy she is crazy about today she won't look at tomorrow and that she would be in a pretty pickle if she got tired of her husband almost as soon as she had got him home.

And, of course, she isn't ready to settle down and to be tied down with a husband and house and babies at 18. She wants to have her fling.

Don't worry about your girl saying that she will never marry because she wants to get some run out of life. When she is a little older she will reverse that opinion. She will think that marriage is next to heaven and that there is nothing that is so much fun in the world as having her own home and her own husband.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a widower 52 years old, no children, good health, very fond of home life. My sister-in-law is 65 years old, a widow, no children, good disposition, good health, good housekeeper. I am thinking of marrying her as I can give her a good home and feel sure we will be happy together. This is no wild love affair. Just good judgment on our part. But our families are much opposed to it and think it wrong. First, because she is my dead wife's sister. Second, because she is fourteen years older than I am. What do you think of it?

P. H. S.

Answer: I think it is a grand idea and have no doubt it would prove a most suitable and sensible match. At your age people are past the romantic time of life and they are wise to marry an old friend, who will fit into their lives far better than any stranger.

As for her being older than you, that does not count at your age.

Dear Miss Dix: Does a person ever quite get over his first love even if he knows that it is hopeless? Does a man ever fall in love so completely again as he did the first time? If he marries a second love, will he be as happy as he would have been if he had married his first love? What do you think of first love?

MISS S.

Answer: I think that first love is of the stuff of which dreams are made and that it is just as beautiful and unsubstantial as dreams are. However, if you work at getting your first love, it will be a first love.

endures and there are cases where men and women marry their first sweethearts, but this does not often happen. Most men and women have thought themselves in love a dozen times before they ever experienced a real case. The truth is that boys and girls in their adolescent state are in love with love and so overflowing with sentiment that they fancy themselves in love with any one of the opposite sex who happens to be near enough for them to hang their affections upon temporarily.

As for a man getting over his first love, there is nothing from which he recovers so completely. Of course, in the back of his mind a certain glamour may hang around the memory of his first sweetheart, but let him but meet her again after a lapse of years and he is filled with wonder at what he could possibly have seen in her that caught his immature fancy.

Real love is an experience that belongs to maturity, not to our salad days. It is only after we are grown-up men and women and know the needs of our own natures that we are capable of the love that can break our hearts if it is unreturned and that endures for a lifetime.

Whether a man will be happier if he marries his second love than he would if he married his first depends entirely upon the woman and which one would be the most congenial to him. Possibly the first love might have been his predestined mate, but it is more likely to have been the second, because generally a boy's first love is his teacher or some woman old enough to be his mother.

First love is a beautiful theme for a poet, but in real life it is a snare and a delusion from which most of us are mercifully saved by a beneficent Providence.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am married to the sweetest man on earth. No man could be kinder, more devoted or more generous to a wife than he is to me. Never scolds, never reprimands me, no matter how extravagant I am or how inefficient. But I don't love him. I am mean, nagging and despicable. I neglect my housework shamefully. If I tell him I don't love him and leave him, he will ruin himself. If I leave him, for me it will mean having to take a housemaid's job for some other woman instead of having my own beautiful house and car. What shall I do? I am the most unhappy person alive.

MRS. A. J.

Answer: You have thought and thought about not being in love with your husband, and about his not being the romantic hero of your girlish dreams until you have worked yourself up into a state of hysteria where you are suffering all sorts of psychopathic pains and having a perfectly gorgeous time being miserable about nothing.

My advice to you is this: Quit thinking about yourself so much and think a little about the splendid man to whom you are married. Don't be wicked enough to ruin his life by letting him find out how you feel about him, or by leaving him. Have enough courage to carry on and keep up the deception and make him happy. Suppose you are not ardently in love with him. You like him and respect him and admire him. That is the real basis on which all friendship is founded, and friendship is a mighty good substitute for love.

And don't forget this: The best way in the world to cultivate love is by doing something for someone. Get busy doing things for that good husband of yours. Think of him instead of yourself and you will find that you are drawn to him in a way that you have believed impossible, and you will find happiness yourself.

Dear Miss Dix: A business man in his early fifties and a business woman of forty are very much in love with each other and are considering marriage. Is the difference in their age an obstacle?

Answer: Certainly not. They are practically in the same age class, since women age more quickly than men do. Their tastes are settled. They know what they want in a husband or wife and the matter of a few additional years one way or the other is negligible.

(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

U. S. Puts Tax Lien on Estate of Slain Mobster

Kansas City, May 3 —(AP)—The government slapped an income tax lien of $38,159 against the estate of Charles Gargotta, slain mobster, and his widow today.

A lien of $27,778.97 was filed for income tax, interest and penalties against the estate of Gargotta for the years of 1945 to 1947, inclusive.

An additional lien of $9,781.22 was filed against Gargotta and his widow, Mrs. Marie Gargotta, for 1948, indicating they filed a joint tax return for that year.

The government also filed a lien of $59,32 against Mrs. Gargotta for the years of 1946 and 1947. Gargotta and Charles Binaggio, North Side Democratic leader, were shot to death in gangland style in their first ward Democratic club rooms on Truman road April 5.

States Rights

Continued From Page One

mittie fight now, was the method of fighting federal civil rights bills. Both sides oppose the measures. The Hill-Sparkman group contended the fight could best be conducted in congress within Democratic party ranks.

Senator Claude Pepper, Florida new dealer who sent down the line for nearly all of the President's "fair deal program, has lost his bid for another term after 14 years of devotion to causes he cherished as "liberal."

Rep. George Smathers, 36-year old former marine now in his second term in the house, defeated Pepper by a solid margin in yesterday's election. Smathers, who has opposed President Truman on several vital issues, calls himself a "middle-of-the-road liberal."

Pepper conceded at 12:15 a. m. P. S. T. today and congratulated his opponent. Smathers was never headed in the count. But he won his home county of Dade (Miami) by only 53 votes out of a total of 131,665.

National interest in the Florida primary for overshadowed that in the primaries held in three other states yesterday — Ohio, Alabama and Indiana. In Ohio, Joseph T. Ferguson, state auditor, claimed victory in a seven-candidate race for the Democratic senatorial nomination to oppose Republican Senator Taft next fall.

In complete returns showed: Alabama — with about half the returns in, rebel States Rights were nearly even with Democratic regulars in their fight for control of the state party machinery. The contest was over 72 places on the state Democratic executive committee.

The national party, led by Senators Hill and Sparkman worked to wrest control of the committee from the group that led the state away from the Truman ticket in 1948 on the civil rights issue.

Hill himself was far ahead in his bid for senate renomination, equivalent to election, against Lawrence McNeill, Birmingham businessman and states righter. With 1190 of the states 2505 boxes in, the tally stood:

Hill, 66,826; McNeill, 38,808.

Starzel

Continued From Page One

ger Thomas Kelly swore under oath yesterday that Western union listed 17 racing news distributors who are not supplied by Continental.

"We're going to ask Western Union," McFarland said, "to give us the names of the persons who have connections on every leased wire that carries racing information. We're going after the full picture."

New Low

Continued From Page One

nist Louis F. Budenz.

McCarthy has accused Lattimore, a professor at Johns Hopkins university, of being Russia's chief spy in this country. Budenz, managing editor of the Daily Worker until he turned his back on communism in 1945, has testified under oath that high Communist officials told him Lattimore was a member of a party cell.

Lattimore yesterday termed Budenz' testimony "hogwash" and said it was the product of a "twisted and malignant personality."

"Budenz has tried to do to me things about as filthy as anyone who calls himself an American can do to another American."

As he did when he first testified on April 6, Lattimore flatly denied McCarthy's "Soviet agent" charge against him. And he let fly with a scathing new attack on the senator.

There are about 5,700,000 colonies of honey bees in the United States.

Report of the Condition of

BANK OF BLEVINS

21 Blevins, Hempstead Co., Ark.

At the close of business April 24, 1950, a State banking institution organized and operating under the banking laws of this State. Published in accordance with a call made by the State Bank Commissioner.

RESOURCES —

Loans and Discounts	68,831.57
Loans on Real Estate	45,367.40
U. S. Securities not pledged	71,100.00
U. S. Securities pledged	45,000.00
Other Bonds and Securities, Including State Warrants, County and City Scrip	14,053.18
Furniture and Fixtures	2,312.00
Banking House	500.00
Cash and Due from Approved Reserve Banks	107,551.35
TOTAL	354,888.75

LIABILITIES —

Common Stock	25,000.00
Surplus Fund, Certified	15,000.00
Undivided Profits, Net	15,383.58
Reserve for Contingencies, etc.	3,290.09
Individual Deposits, Including Public Funds	285,737.63
Time Certificates of Deposit	7,465.70
U. S. Government Deposits	2,988.75
Total Amount of all Classes Deposits as Above Shown	296,215.08
TOTAL	354,888.75

State of Arkansas, County of Hempstead ss.

I, P. C. Stephens, Cashier, of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

P. C. Stephens, Cashier

Attest: H. M. Stephens, Herbert M. Stephens, Directors

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 29th day of April, 1950.

My Commission expires Jan. 7th, 1954.

(Seal)

M. L. Nelson, Notary Public

Chrysler Negotiations Plod Along

Detroit, May 3 —(AP)—Peace talks in the long Chrysler strike plodded on today in the wake of fresh company-union bickering.

For the time being there were no further reports of progress on the 99th day of the strike.

Last night's talks were adjourned at 1 a. m. (EST) today without comment. Mediators ordered a resumption later today.

Chrysler yesterday accused the CIO United Auto Workers of having "scuttled" an "approaching settlement. The UAW countered with a charge of "bad faith."

Settlement hopes have blown hot and cold for a period of weeks in the effort to return 89,000 strikers to work. A total of 140,000 men in the auto industry are idle because of the strike.

Herman L. Weckler, vice president Chrysler, charged that the UAW has "haggled and apparently does not yet want to settle the strike."

"Time after time, when it looked as though agreement was almost at hand, the UAW has scuttled the approaching settlement, Weckler said.

Walter Reuther, UAW president, denied Weckler's charge. He said Weckler's "sole contribution was 'ill-tempered name calling and unfounded charges."

The two men previously engaged in hot dispute during the negotiations.

Mediator Probes Report of Strike of Railmasters

Chicago, May 3 —(AP)—The national (railway) mediation board's chairman said today he is investigating reports of a strike threat by railroad yardmasters.

Reports current in Kansas City state that yardmen in seven mid-western centers have set tomorrow for the start of a three-day protest strike.

Francis A. O'Neill, Jr., mediation board chairman, said he has no official notification of such a strike. He said the report was given him by railroad officials and he has been unable to confirm it.

Milton Schoch, president of the AFL Railroad Yardmasters of America, declined to discuss the report at his Chicago office.

Schoch also declined to give his union's membership. However, the 1950 World Almanac lists the membership at 3,600.

The Kansas City Star quoted an official of the union, who declined use of his name, as saying yardmasters will leave their jobs at 6 a. m. (Eastern Standard Time) tomorrow. They will return at 6 a. m. Sunday.

any progress would come largely through voluntary American efforts rather than through "military occupation pressure."

Calling the President "a postgraduate of the most effective political school in America—the Pen-dergast school of Kansas City.

Stassen told a Republican meeting:

"From that school he knows the methods of attacks on opposition, of claims for all improvement, of dogging blame for things that go wrong, and marshalling votes through organization."

"The tragedy for America is that the same school which made Truman such a clever politician also made him such a bad President."

"This is true because it is a school whose graduates are lacking in a sense of idealism and who minimize the importance of honesty and integrity."

Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania, former governor of Minnesota and unsuccessful contender for the GOP presidential nomination in 1948, delivered his blast at Mr. Truman in a speech before the women's auxiliary of the New York County (Manhattan) Republican committee.

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman's) use and misuse of the great power of his office."

Stassen urged Republicans to "meet the 1950 situation brought about by x x x his (Mr. Truman

SOCIETY

Phone 1268 or 1269 Between 8 A. M. and 4 P. M.

Notice

Members of the Hope Band mothers auxiliary please note that the meeting scheduled for Monday May 1 has been postponed until Monday May 8.

Wednesday, May 3

The Gardenia Garden club will meet at the home of Mrs. Leonard Ellis, at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday with Mrs. Charles Wylie co-hostess.

Circle 3 of the Women of the First Christian church will meet at the church at 7 p.m. Wednesday for a pot luck supper. Hostesses will be Mrs. Al Park, and Mrs. William Stephenson. The leader is Mrs. Ed Percell. Mrs. Gladine Morris will conduct the study "Strong Son of God" and chapter 3 will be discussed.

Wednesday, May 3

The Girl Scout Community Committee will meet at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Hope City Hall.

Thursday, May 4

The DeAnn Civic club will hold its regular meeting Thursday, May 4 at 7:30 p.m. The DeAnn Lilac club will provide entertainment and refreshments. Everyone is urged to be present.

The Pat Cleburne chapter of the UDC will meet at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Alvah S. Williams, 915 South Elm Street.

The Willing Workers class of the Hope Gospel Tabernacle will have their regular monthly meeting at a pot luck supper in Fellowship Hall at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. All members are urged to attend.

The pledges of the Alpha Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will meet at 7 p.m. Thursday with Miss Bettye Babl at Branch hospital. The regular meeting will follow at 7:30 p.m. at the Hope City Hall.

Friday, May 5

The Service class of First Christian church will have a pot luck supper at Fair Park at 7 p.m. Friday. Hostesses will provide the meat and drinks and members are to bring other dishes.

Tuesday, May 9

Many of the choral groups of Hope are busy with final practices for the city wide Music Festival to be held next Tuesday May 9, in the high school stadium, according to Mrs. B. C. Hyatt, president of the Friday Music club, sponsor of the event. The elementary school boys club will sing The Road to Mandalay, Home on the Range, and a negro spiritual, De Creation.

The elementary girls selections will be Moonbeams by Victor Herbert and The Beautiful Blue Danube. Mrs. Hyatt directs both of these groups.

Miss Ruth Hamilton will direct the junior high girls club in Arkansas Traveler and My Hero from the Chocolate Soldier, and the high school group with Mrs. Helen Marshall leader will sing The Waltz of the Flowers and A Wandering Minstrel I. Mrs.

Marshall is also directing the choral group of the Friday Music club who will offer The Last Song by Rogers and There Are Such Things.

A male chorus from the Kiwanis club will feature popular songs. The committee in charge has endeavored to include songs that everyone loves and all music lovers are assured of a real treat in the performance of these fine singing groups.

Completing the program will be all the school bands including 10 piece rhythm band of the elementary school who will be seen in new costumes. The complete program will appear later in the week.

Circle 1 and 2 Meet Jointly

Circle 1 and 2 of First Christian church met jointly in the Church Parlor Monday afternoon at 3. The meeting opened with all repeating the Lords Prayer, after which each circle recorded its own Bible readings, visits, and money collected.

The program was arranged by the two circle leaders, Mrs. McCrae Cox and Mrs. B. L. Rettig. Mrs. Dewey Camp gave an inspirational devotional on the early church and on being a true Christian. Mrs. B. L. Rettig gave an interesting article on the "Greatest Man of the Century," and Mrs. Cline Franks told about the "International Christian University in Japan."

Following the program several items of business were discussed and action taken on them. Tickets for the May Fellowship luncheon of the Hope Council of Church Women on May 17 were distributed.

After the business meeting was concluded the group was invited into Fellowship Hall where refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Oliver Adams, Mrs. Nettie Dinkins, and Mrs. Wm. P. Hardegger. Twenty-two members, two visitors from Circle No. 3 and one other visitor were served.

Mrs. O. W. Amos, hostess to WSCS Circle 4 of the WSCS of the First Methodist church met in the home of Mrs. O. W. Amos at 3 p.m. Monday. The leader, Mrs. P. H. Webb, opened the meeting and a beautiful prayer was offered by Mrs. E. D. Galloway.

During the business session, attention was called to the members of the District meeting of the WSCS to be held in Nashville, May 9, and family night at the church here May 10. It was also announced that a Luncheon would be held at the Barlow hotel on the Council of Church women on May 17. Mrs. Webb requested that all members be present at these meetings, that Circle 4 could be well represented.

Miss Mable Ethridge was in charge of the program and introduced Mrs. Sam Warkack who gave supporting scriptures for the joint subject "God In Families and Women of Scriptures." Mrs. R. L. Broach spoke on "Home Life in China, India, Africa, and Latin America."

Mrs. D. B. Thompson gave an interesting and descriptive story on "Life of Sarah." Mrs. J. M. Harbin discussed "Women Influenced The Life of Moses, His mother, sister, and his adopted mother."

The treasurer announced that the circle had exceeded its pledge for the year.

A delightful dessert plate was served to 19 members.

Coming and Going

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Tarpley of Texarkana were Wednesday visitors in Hope.

Mrs. Seth Hensley, Jr. of Overton, Texas has arrived in Ozark where she was called on account of the death of her brother, T-Sgt. William J. Ball, who was killed in the crash of a B-25 bomber Sunday at Lebanon, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McCarty returned Monday night from Jacksboro, Tex. where they spent the week-end with her mother Mrs. Maude Boatman.

Square Dancing

Enjoyed at Country Club

The members of the Hope Country club enjoyed square dancing at the clubhouse last evening under the direction of Mrs. John Harrie. Hosts for the evening entertainment were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Verhalen, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Watkins.

For the occasion, spring flowers adorned the mantle and other vantage points throughout the house. A long table covered with checked table clothes held snacks and cold drinks for the guests.

The 30 couples in gingham dresses, and plaid shirts and blue jeans, danced the Virginia Reel, Take A Peek, Sally and Johnny Goodwin, and the Heel and Toe Polka, to the music furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Harrie. Among out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Kenny McKee of Garland City.

Hospital Notes

Julia Chester Admitted: Mrs. Cleve A. Hamilton, McCaskill; Mrs. Fred Russell, Rt. 2, Hope; Roger Clinton, Hope. Discharged: Karen Shepard, Palmos.

Josephine Admitted: Mrs. E. L. Cox, Hope;

25% of Hoover Plan May Be Carried Out

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, May 3 —(AP)—It is almost a year since the Hoover commission made its last recommendation for reorganizing the government.

What's been done? About 20 percent of the recommendations have been carried out. Before quitting in 1950, congress may approve more, but not all.

This commission was created by congress in 1947 and finished its work in June, 1949. It made 18 reports and 288 recommendations.

Former President Hoover headed this commission of 12 Democrats and Republicans. It had the help of 300 specialists in business and government.

Congress set it up to give the government the biggest looking-over it had ever had and suggest ways of making it run better and cheaper.

Not all 12 commissioners agreed on every item in every recommendation. And the recommendations now are not being followed in every detail.

There are three ways for putting them into effect:

1. The President can set up plans without congress' say-so.
2. In some cases, congress can act on its own by passing laws.
3. On other plans the President and congress both have a say.

Mr. Truman has given his plan. It goes into effect 60 days later, unless congress disapproves. Disapproval by either house kills it.

Last year Mr. Truman offered congress seven plans, got six approved. The one killed would have created a department of welfare to unify the health, public welfare and education programs now handled by the federal security agency.

The six approved plans did these things:

The U. S. employment service and certain other government jobs dealing with labor were moved into the department of labor; the bureau of public roads was moved in the commerce department; to make their agencies' work smoother, more authority was given to the officials of the post office department and the civil service; and the national security council and the national security resources board were put more directly in the President's hands.

And also last year, congress did these on its own:

It united the armed forces created the job of undersecretary of defense to ease the load on the secretary; modernized the civil service system a bit; created a new agency to handle the general services administration, to handle the supply problems of the civil service; agencies, most of whom had done it individually; and it blessed the reorganization of the state department.

In March of this year Mr. Truman handed congress 21 more reorganization plans. They'll go into effect May 24 unless congress disapproves. About 60 per cent of the Hoover recommendations would become a reality of these 21 plans, plus those set up last year, go through.

But congress may kill some of the 21. Opposition to several is building up inside and outside congress. Here are the 21:

One would strip the maritime commission now an independent agency into the commerce department. (Opposition to this.)

Two plans would give the secretary of labor more direct control over the work done by some of the agencies now under the labor department's roof.

Five plans would make some shifts, to and from, the new general services administration created last year. Reason: To make it run smoother.

Thirteen plans would give more authority to the heads of various government departments and agencies. The strongest opposition has developed against some of these 13 plans. Example:

One would strip the general counsel of the national labor relations board, Robert Denham, of his authority and give it to the five-man board. Business men say they fear this would favor labor unions. Senator Taft, Ohio Republican and one of the authors of the Taft-Hartley act which gave Denham his powers, is leading the fight against this plan.

Another one of the 13 in trouble: This would give Secretary of the Treasury Snyder a strong hand over the comptroller of the currency who supervises the nation's banks. Snyder himself is against this idea.

In addition to the plans started last year, and the 21 proposed by Mr. Truman this year, there are enough bills by individual congressmen now lying around in congress to carry out all the other Hoover recommendations.

They may not get through this year but here are some of the Hoover proposals not yet acted upon:

Unify the governments hospital programs by merging the hospitals of the veterans administration, the armed forces and the public health service; create a veterans' insurance corporation to speed up Jimnie Miller, Hope. Discharged: Little Miss Phala Brown, Hope; Mrs. Clyde Parks, Lewisville Rt. 1; Mrs. Jack Simpson, Hope; Bobby Harvell, Rt. 1, Hope.

Branch Discharged: Master Graydon Anthony, Jr., Hope.

Distant Star

Copyright 1950 by Hermina Black. Dist. by NEA SERVICE, INC.

BY HERMINA BLACK

THE STORY: Failing to love had not been Clemency Norrington's idea when she became nursery governess to Baba, small daughter of Syria and Jon Amberley, but soon Clemency realizes she has lost her heart to Piers Amberley, Syria's brother, at whose luxurious North African home the married family lives. Syria is bitterly antagonistic when she hears the news and Jon watches his wife with an almost frightening grin of sadistic amusement. When Clemency returns to the nursery that night she finds Baba in bed under an open window with the cool night air from the Algerian desert blowing in on her. The child is chilled and the next day slightly ill. Clemency learns that Jon must have left the window open when he went out with the child. Clemency is told that day by Syria that she intends to engage a new governess soon.

XXVI

CLEMENCY had said nothing about finding the nursery open, knowing that it would only cause a row between Syria and Jon and if acrimonious passages between those two could be avoided, she felt it would be a slight relief. She had warned Loulie to say nothing, but she had every intention herself of coping with Jon in no uncertain manner at the first opportunity.

"Baba's only got a little cough," Syria said after visiting the nursery, where Baba was inclined to enjoy being an invalid. "It's ridiculous to keep her in. I've told Loulie she can go out."

"I don't think she should," protested Clemency. "She kicked off her bed clothes last night and got chilled."

"Nonsense. On a day like this," interrupted Syria. "The sun will do her good. I have told Loulie to take her out—please see my orders are obeyed."

Seething with anger Clemency looked after Syria as she walked out of the room, shutting the door abruptly behind her. She wished Piers were here, and she could have consulted him. She did not feel Baba should go out; but unfortunately Syria was the child's mother.

Baba seemed a little more feverish when she came in, and by the evening she was coughing quite a lot. So that when Piers returned just before dinner, and came straight up to the nurseries, she asked him if he would mind very much if she stayed with Baba—as it was Loulie's free evening.

"Of course I mind. I'll probably come and keep you company later," he told her. "If visitors are allowed!" Then the tender laughing faded from his eyes: "That kid does look off-color. I'll telephone in the morning for the doctor to come, shall I?"

"It would be a good idea," said Clemency. "Ought you to ask Mrs. Jon?"

"No. I shall tell her I have sent for him." Again that shadow in his face. But it was gone, and she forgot it as he drew her into his arms.

"Missed me today—a little?" "Every minute when you are not here," she confessed. "I always shall."

"Darling—" He kissed her, between her eyes so candidly full of her love, on either cheek, and then lingeringly on her mouth.

"You've a wonderful technique for a bachelor," said Clemency, rubbing her cheek against his shoulder. "Oh, Piers! I never dreamt I'd dare say all these things to you!"

He lifted her chin, a finger beneath it. "There are so many things I want to hear you say. Know what the most important will always be?"

"No-o-o."

"You do. Three words."

"I love you—" She turned her head quickly. "Listen to that child coughing."

But Piers was in no mood to listen to anything of the sort just then as he drew her face round to his again.

"CAN one be too happy? Clemency wondered dreamily, smoking a cigarette in the day nursery two hours later.

Baba was sleeping—not as quely as she would have liked her to be—(Piers was sure to remember to send for the doctor) and she was alone with her thoughts. Loving Piers—being loved by him—having each other always. She thought a little smile touching her lips: I suppose I always knew it would be like this—when it came. I'm glad I never cheated—I'm glad I never cheapened myself. I'm glad every heartbeat—all I am are his.

She turned her head suddenly, conscious that there was someone else in the room, and saw Jon Amberley watching her from the doorway, that half sneer on his face which she had noticed when he watched Syria yesterday.

"Hello, future sister-in-law," he said, moving forward rather carefully. "I've come to see my daughter."

Obviously, although he was not drunk, he was far from sober.

"Don't go into the night nursery, please," Clemency said crisply. "Baba is asleep. She hasn't been well all day, and I don't want her disturbed."

JON was in the mood to take offense, having had far more to drink than her experience guessed. He looked at her truculently. "My kid, isn't she? Or has my wife given orders, or my wife's boy friend?"

"Don't be silly," she said coldly. "Baba's got a bad cold. If she wakes up now she won't get off to sleep again easily. And it's your fault she has got a cold. Why did you leave the nursery window open last night?"

Jon looked taken aback at this direct attack. "Me?"

"Yes, you. I came in and found it wide open."

His expression changed to dismay. "I went out on the balcony for a breath of air—it was stifling."

"It's never stifling in there. The ventilators are always open. I found her with no bed clothes on and chilled through and through."

"My fault. I was a fool."

"Be more careful next time," said Clemency more gently. "A child could get pneumonia that way."

(To Be Continued)

Letters to the Editor

This is your newspaper. Write to it. Letters criticizing the editorial policy or commenting upon facts in the news columns, are equally welcome. Every writer must sign his name and address but publication of name may be withheld if requested.

Thanks From Red Cross

Editor The Star: As chairman of the 1950 fund raising campaign for the American Red Cross I wish to express my appreciation to all of those that supervised the solicitations in the Wards of Hope and the various communities of Hempstead county and to their faithful solicitors or co-workers.

Personally and on behalf of all of the energetic workers I wish to thank the many thoughtful citizens who contributed funds to this worthy organization. In 1949 the American Red Cross contributed more for the relief of suffering humanity in the State of Arkansas than the citizens of Arkansas gave to the organization.

There are many citizens of Hope who were not called upon because sufficient workers were not obtainable. Those desiring to make contributions should send it to Miss Annie Jean Walker at the Hope City Hall.

Respectfully,
F. C. CROW

May 2, 1950
Hope, Ark.

Nails range from 15-inch boat spikes to fine needle-like pins only 3-16th of an inch in length.

the handling of veterans' insurance; take the post office out of politics by having postmasters appointed through civil service ratings; further improve the civil service; make the post office more efficient, particularly by installing more machines.

Police Raid N. Y. Office of Gambler

New York, May 3 —(AP)—The district attorney swooped down on the Park Avenue office of a millionaire gambler Frank Erickson yesterday and carted away a truckload of alleged betting papers.

The raid was the direct result of Erickson's admission before a U. S. senate committee Friday that he runs a law-breaking $12,500,000-a-year national bookie business in New York.

Manhattan District Attorney Frank Hogan's office said Erickson has been under investigation for more than a year, but that it was his open admission of illegal operations that touched off the raid.

The raid, in the center of Manhattan's richest apartment and fashion district, took place in secret yesterday morning.

It was not disclosed until shortly before midnight last night. No arrest were made when the district attorney's men filed a search warrant and entered the office. But Erickson and his lawyer, Sol Gelb, were on hand.

Gelb said later he would go before general sessions Judge John A. Mullen who issued the warrant—and try to get the papers back today. He will charge the seizure was illegal, he added.

Hogan's aides said the papers, filling bulky filing cabinets and portfolios, dealt with horse race betting and gambling on other sports events.

The investigators plan to go through them with a fine-tooth comb to see if they can find grounds for prosecution.

Erickson's office is in the Park Avenue theater building. It is listed under the name of his brother, "Leonard J. Erickson, investments."

Scolds Business for Bringing Pressure on U. S.

Washington, May 3 —(AP)—Senator O'Connor (D-Md) scolded businessmen today for bringing spending pressures on congress. He told the United States Chamber of Commerce that such pressures have helped to pose "a definite threat to our solvency."

At a time when taxes are No. 1 problem of business, O'Connor said, businessmen are adding to their own woes by being "against federal spending—except in their own neighborhoods."

"They're all for federal economy—except when it comes to closing a military, naval or other federal establishment with which they do business, or whose employees are their customers, the senator declared."

The recent $150,000,000 rivers and harbors bill is typical of the result, O'Connor said; congress members were unable to resist the pressure from every section of the country for projects whose ultimate consists "will run to many."

"The only possible way to avoid serious damage to our fiscal structure, and possible complete collapse, he said, "is to cut government spending drastically."

Cotton Ginnings Reveal Slight Increase

Washington, May 3 —(AP)—The census bureau reported today that ginnings from the 1949 cotton crop totaled 15,907,646 running bales. This is equivalent to 16,127,083 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

Ginnings from the 1948 crop totaled 14,580,279 running bales and 14,868,269 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

The final ginning figures were 7,144 bales more than the preliminary figures issued last March 20.

A whale would drown quickly if deprived of air.

Senate Ready for Action on Crime Probe

Washington, May 3 —(AP)—After weeks of delay, the senate today came to possible action on a resolution calling for a $150,000 crime investigation.

The inquiry was first proposed in February. It wasn't until late yesterday that Senator Ke fauver (D-Tenn) managed to get his resolution before the senate.

There still was some doubt the senate would get to a final vote today.

Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois tried to get agreement for a definite voting time. His move was blocked by Senator Donnell (R-Mo) and others.

Lucas said he had been "kicked around" by some press accusations that he has been stalling a vote on the crime investigation and declared that those who now blocked one could take the responsibility for any further delay.

Donnell insisted he had a two-hour speech to make on the resolution.

The Kefauver inquiry would be much broader than the gambling investigation being conducted by a senate commerce subcommittee.

Kefauver proposes to set up a five-man special committee with authority to check on the operations of any crime syndicate and the influence of organized crime on law enforcement.

Danuser Says Files Are Tampered With

Malvern, May 3 — Circuit Judge Roy Danuser has reported an apparent effort to break into his office.

Danuser said yesterday someone had unsuccessfully attempted to "jimmy the office lock."

Attempted burglary may have been connected in some way with the six-week old investigation of alleged gambling and liquor violations in "dry Hot Spring county."

Danuser revealed he had impounded a number of official records in the investigation. He said the ones he considered important were at his home.

Loyalty Board to Hold Hearing on John Service

Washington, May 3 —(AP)—Officials of the state department said the board will hold a hearing in month on the loyalty record of John S. Service.

The exact date will be set in Allen B. Moreland, counsel for the board, said.

Service, a professional copy service officer, was called here in March for the hearing. Previously he has been exonerated of any disloyalty accusations. A case was reopened after Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) charged that he is a Communist in the state department. McCarthy accused Service of Communist "leadings."

Service was en route to an assignment in India at that time but was ordered back here, reaching Washington March 27. Meanwhile the loyalty board had formally brought charges against him.

The nature of these charges as far as the board is concerned is confidential but Service was informed of them by a letter. Moreland said. Service obtained legal counsel and asked time to prepare his case.

Whales nourish their young milk, as do other mammals.

Great to relieve 'PERIODIC' FEMALE PAINS

Helps Build Up Resistance Against Them!

Do functional monthly ailments make you suffer from pains at such times? And do you start suffering a few days before your period from nervous, strangely restless, weak, dragging feelings—due to this cause? Then start taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Pinkham's Compound does what no other medicine can—it relieves this monthly pain. It also relieves accompanying nervous, tense emotions of this nature. Regular use helps build up resistance against female distress. The woman's friend.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

TOMMIES • TOMMIES • 1

SIMPLY HEAVENLY!

Exciting New Bra-and-Shorts! $3.95

Fit for an Angel... Harry Berger's enchanting new bra-design, with wonderfully flattering stand-up wings, frosted with white eyelet. The adjustable back means perfect fit. Superbly cut shorts to match make it a delightful playsuit... and cool, comfortable sleeping pajamas! Pre-shrunk, color-fast cotton broadcloth in Lemon Yellow, Bluebell, or Sand Pink. 32 to 38.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
© Kaylee Inc. 1950

Refresh...add zest to the hour

lunch refreshed

5¢

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY HOPE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO. Second and Louisiana Sts. © 1950, The Coca-Cola Company

Ask for it either way...both trade-marks mean the same thing.

Coca-Cola "Coke"

Refresh...add zest to the hour

lunch refreshed

5¢

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY HOPE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO. Second and Louisiana Sts. © 1950, The Coca-Cola Company

Ask for it either way...both trade-marks mean the same thing.

Coca-Cola "Coke"

SAENGER

Wed. - Thurs.

NIGHT RIDERS... Leaving a Lawless Trail!

THE SUNDOWNERS

Robert PRESTON

Colby Downes Introducing John Barrymore, Jr.

Color by TECHNICOLOR

One of the Years Outstanding Cartoons

"THE BRAVE ENGINEER"

The Story of Casey Jones as sung by Jerry Colona

RIALTO

Wed. - Thurs.

James Mason - Bennett

THE Reckless Moment

GERALDINE BROOKS

SAENGER

Wed. - Thurs.

NIGHT RIDERS... Leaving a Lawless Trail!

THE SUNDOWNERS

Robert PRESTON

Colby Downes Introducing John Barrymore, Jr.

Color by TECHNICOLOR

One of the Years Outstanding Cartoons

"THE BRAVE ENGINEER"

The Story of Casey Jones as sung by Jerry Colona

RIALTO

Wed. - Thurs.

James Mason - Bennett

THE Reckless Moment

GERALDINE BROOKS

CLASSIFIED

Ads Must Be In Office Day Before Publication

One	Three	Six	One
Days	Days	Days	Month
10	25	40	1.50
15	35	50	2.00
20	45	60	2.50
25	55	70	3.00
30	65	80	3.50
35	75	90	4.00
40	85	100	4.50
45	95	110	5.00
50	105	120	5.50
55	115	130	6.00
60	125	140	6.50
65	135	150	7.00
70	145	160	7.50
75	155	170	8.00
80	165	180	8.50
85	175	190	9.00
90	185	200	9.50
95	195	210	10.00
100	205	220	10.50
105	215	230	11.00
110	225	240	11.50
115	235	250	12.00
120	245	260	12.50
125	255	270	13.00
130	265	280	13.50
135	275	290	14.00
140	285	300	14.50
145	295	310	15.00

Rates are for Continuous Insertions Only
All Want Ads Cash in Advance
Not Taken Over the Phone

Hope Star

Star of Hope 1899; Press 1927
Consolidated January 18, 1929

Published every weekday afternoon by STAR PUBLISHING CO.
C. E. Palmer, President
Alex. H. Washburn, Editor-Publisher
at The Star Building
212-214 South Walnut Street,
Hope, Arkansas

Alex. H. Washburn, Editor-Publisher
at The Star Building
212-214 South Walnut Street,
Hope, Arkansas

Entered as second class matter of the Post Office at Hope, Arkansas, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

(AP) Means Associated Press.
(NPA) Means Newspaper Enterprise
Association

Subscription Rates: (Payable in Advance) Delivered by independent carriers, 20¢ per week; 85¢ per month;
$2.50 per year. Mail rates: In Hampshire, Nevada, Howard, Miller and Lafayette counties, $4.50 per year;
$2.50 for six months; $1.00 for three months. Deliveries by mail—85¢ per month; $2.50 per year.

North Advertising Representatives:
Arkansas Dallas, Inc. 1602 Sterick
Bldg., Memphis 2, Tenn.; 505 Texas
Bldg., Dallas 2, Texas; 360 N.
Michigan Ave., Chicago 1, Ill.; 60
42nd St., New York 17, N. Y.; 1763
Pemberton Bldg., Detroit 2, Mich.;
Terminal Bldg., Oklahoma City 2, Okla.

Member of the Associated Press.
The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to the use for republication of all the local news printed in this newspaper, as well as all AP news dispatches.

For Sale

FIRST-YEAR COTTON PLANTing seed, Coker 100, Stoneville 25B, $2.50 per bushel. Jim Wilson, Columbus. 1-lmo.

HICKORY SMOKED BARBECUE.
Best Pork, chicken, ribs. Open daily 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Sundays
10:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. 7-4
Bill & Tink's, Phone 758

COTTON PLANTING SEED, D &
S 15 and Empire. First year and breeders. T. S. McDavitt. 21-4.

BOCH'S CIGAR STORE, TELEphone 250. 25-4.

FARMALL CUB TRACTOR WITH hammer mill, plow, disk, drag, mower and cultivator. All in very good condition. Phone 666
Ask for Carl. 27-6.

BATTERY RAISED FRYERS
good size. Phone 1297-R all day Saturdays and after 4 p.m. weekdays. Mrs. Grady Beard 802
South Washington. 1-6.

EXTRA CLEAN 1947 CHEVROlet Aero-Sedan. Radio, heater, door mileage, one owner. car tricked right. Phone 165-M or 333. 3-3.

BILL AND TINK'S BARBECUE
Cafe for sale. Very good small business. Owner going back to school. Low sale price for high return. Come in and make us and offer. 4-4.

Wanted

FOR 5 ROOM HOUSE UNFURNished with garden spot. For retired couple. J. C. Henry, Washington, Ark. 3-33.

REMOVED FREE
Within 40 Miles

DEAD HORSES, COWS and CRIPPLES
Texarkana Rendering Plant
Dial 3-7623 (phone collect)
If No Answer Dial 3-5770

PORTER & HUETT
GARAGE

118 Candy Phone 1138
For all Cars — Trucks and Farm Equipment
We pick up and deliver.

METAL AWNINGS

They're Cooler...
Permanent

IN ALL COLORS. SEE US FOR ESTIMATES.

WESTERN AUTO
ASSOCIATE STORE

208 S. Main Phone 747

NOTICE GARDEN CLUBS

Camellia & Azalea Plant Food Fertilizer, also Aluminum Sulphate
Fruitone and Rootone

Farmers book your 3-5-40
Cotton Dust at this time.
Cotton Seeds and Hybrid
Seed Corn at best prices.

J. M. McWILLIAMS
SEED STORE

We Manufacture
VENETIAN BLINDS

Custom built to fit openings.
Wood or Metal Blats
Old blinds refinished like new.

AWNINGS

Canvas and Blat-O-Wood

RILEY COOPER

1615 Texas Ave. Phone 32-1641
TEXARKANA, TEXAS

Political Announcements

The Star is authorized to announce the following are candidates for public office subject to the action of the Democratic primary elections this summer:

Congress
(7th Congressional District)
VERNON E. WHITTEN

Prosecuting Attorney
(8th Judicial Circuit)
CHARLES W. HACKETT

Chancery Judge
Second Division, 6th District
JAMES H. PILKINGTON
J. E. STILL
BYRON GOODSON

Sheriff and Collector
J. W. (SON) JONES
R. D. (SON) PHILLIPS
CLAUD SUTTON

Treasurer
LUCILLE RUGGLES

County Clerk
HARRY HAWTHORNE

State Representative
(Post No. 1)
THURSTON A. HULSEY

Post No. 2
JAMES T. WEST

HEART OF HOPE

Mutual BROADCASTING SYSTEM

1490
OK YOUR DIAL

"M" for Mutual Network

Wednesday p. m.

5:00 Mark Trail—M

5:30 Tom Mix—M

6:00 Music for a Mellow Mood

6:10 Melody Bank

6:15 News, 5-Star & Sports

6:25 Calendar of Events

6:30 Gabriel Heatter—M

6:45 Fulton Lewis, Jr.—M

7:00 Can You Top This?—M

7:30 International Airport—M

7:55 Bill Henry, News—M

8:00 Legionnaires vs. Nashville, here

10:30 Dance Music—M

10:55 Mutual Reports the News
11:00 Sign Off

Thursday a. m.

5:57 Sign on

6:00 Rhythm Roundup

6:15 Musical Musketiers

6:30 News, Roundup Edition

6:35 Farm Breakfast

6:45 Quartet Time

7:00 Jolly Baker Boys

7:15 Musical Clock

7:30 Breakfast Edition of News

7:35 Calendar of Events

7:45 Morning Devotional

8:00 Robert Hugeligh, News—M

8:15 Nashville Calling

9:00 Songs by Buddy Clark

9:15 Rhythm Ranch Hands

9:30 Me Lody Bank

9:35 Time Out for Music

9:45 Morning Matinee

10:00 Behind the Story—M

10:15 Party Line Patter

10:30 Voice of the Army

11:00 Kate Smith—M

11:15 Lanny Ross Show—M

11:30 Melody Bank

11:35 Hillbilly Spotlight

11:45 Eddie Arnold—M

Thursday p. m.

12:00 News, Home Edition

12:10 Calendar of Events

12:15 Church of Christ

12:30 Stamps Baxter Melody Boys

12:45 Game of the Day—M

Nashville
Comes to Hope
Tonight at 8

Jack McClendon or Denville Ross will take the mound tonight at Legion field if the weather permits a non-league game between the Legionnaires and Nashville.

Tomorrow night is the first of a two-game series with the powerful El Dorado team and Bob Appleby will probably do the hurling chores, Manager Bill McClendon said today. The contest was rained out Monday night.

Nashville
Hands Cats
First Loss

Nashville handed the Hope Bobcats their first loss of the season at Fair park yesterday afternoon by an 8 to 6 tally.

Bill Gunter was the losing hurler while the Scrappers Castle-berry was credited with the win.
Hope committed 9 errors, 3 of them in the 7th costing 3 runs and the game.

Nashville led until the 5th when the Bobcats tied it up and took a one-run lead in the 6th. In the final stanza Nashville, aided by errors, scored three runs to win.
Hope batters made 5 hits and Nashville made 6.

Russia Wants to Know About Japan

Tokyo, May 3—(AP)—Russia today asked General McArthur to explain military and news reports that the United States is rebuilding key Japanese naval and air bases.

It charged such rebuilding would be in violation of Allied occupation policy.

The top general of the Soviet mission in Tokyo presented Russia's complaint in a letter to Mac-Arthur.

The Russian, Lt. Gen. Eodsiyan-ko, cited several published accounts of how the U. S. put new sinews in Japan's old naval bases and built "a number of airfields from Hokkaido to Kyushu" which "can accommodate the country's largest bombers."

Derevyanko quoted retired U. S. Adm. D. C. Ramsey as saying in April, 1948, when he was Pacific fleet commander, that "the naval bases at Sasebo, Kure and Yokosuka, together with the bases on the islands of Okinawa and Guam, offer a formidable combination of forward operation bases in event of any future hostilities in the Far East."

Derevyanko commented:
"The reconstruction of the former Japanese naval and air bases is incompatible with the obligations assumed by the United States of America together with the Soviet Union and other members of the Far Eastern commission."

Congress Still Demands More
Military Funds

Washington, May 3—(AP)—A forecast of eventual crack-up of Russia's power failed today to quiet congressional demands for continuing the draft and for more money for national defense.

"Wishful thinking," said Representative Vinson (D-Ga) and Cole
(R-NY) to the statement by Paul
C. Hoffman that the Soviet system of satellites will "crack and crack quite suddenly" some day from the tensions now building up behind the iron curtain.

General Omar N. Bradley, the nation's No. 1 military leader, yesterday said there were no signs of let up in Soviet pressure.

Vinson is chairman and Cole is a top minority member of the house armed services committee which is demanding the addition of $350,000,000 to a $13,911,000,000 defense share of an appropriation bill now before the house.

Hoffman is head of the economic cooperation administration which administers the Marshall plan of aid to foreign countries resisting communism.

Speaking before the United States Chamber of Commerce yesterday, Hoffman said that while the satellite nations "appear smooth on the surface," they have been kept that way by "political brutality" and "the tensions are growing."

"Eleven years ago," he said,
"We had three dictators to worry about — Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin. Two are gone and I expect to live long enough to see the third one go."

ABC—6:30 Lone Ranger; 7:30
Gregory Hood case; 8:30 Sherlock Holmes; 8:30 Buzz Adams playroom; 9: Lawrence Welk show.

MBS—7:30 Can You Top This; 7:30
Airport drama; 8: Science Fiction, 2000 plus; 9: Frank Edwards comment.

Thursday items: Baseball—MBS

—1 p. m. Detroit at Philadelphia.
NBC—9 a. m. Welcome Travelers; 1 p. m. Double or Nothing;
4:30 Just Plain Bill.

CBS—12:30 Young Doc Malone; 2:30 House party; 5:15 You and The Horse.

ABC—10 a. m. Romance
Drama; 1 p. m. Welcome to Hollywood; 2:30 Buddy Rogers Show.

MBS—8:3 a. m. Tennessee
Jamboree; 11 Kate Smith Speaking; 4 Straight Arrow Drama.

In 1948, steel mills made about one million tons of nails.

"Coming Attractions"—
Powell-Allyson, May 5, 6

Dick Powell and June Allyson will be in Little Rock May 5-6 for the second annual Rose Festival and to hold an all-southern premiere of their latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "The Reformer and The Redhead." The film and personal appearance will be held at the Arkansas Theatre in Little Rock on the night of May 5. On Saturday morning the Powells will be in the Rose Festival Parade with Dick acting as Parade Marshal. June, one of Hollywood's loveliest stars, has been designated "Honorary Rose Queen of Arkansas." Dick is an Arkansas product. He was born in Mountain View and moved to Little Rock as a youngster and attended school in the capital city. One of the largest crowds in Little Rock's history is expected for the colorful three-day spectacle.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, May 3—Contradicting the old theory that everything happens in Brooklyn, Boston Red Sox fans ask: "Did a manager ever thumb himself out of a game there?" Joe McCarthy did that and some say it's the screwiest happening of the season so far.
Seems Joe got the thumb while he was arguing with Umpire Bill Mc-Kinley and left the park. McKinley later said he had only told Mc-Carthy, "Go back and sit down."

But a couple of days before that Manager Al Vincent of the Tulsa (Texas League) Oilers rushed out to demand that an opposing player be given the heave-ho. Before he was through talking, Vincent had been tossed out himself.

Then there's Clyde Snell of West Palm Beach, Fla., who earned the doubtful distinction of being the first manager "fired this season. His club lost 12 of its first 16 games." Sam Demma of the Opelika, Ala., club beat that rap. At odds with the club heads, Sam resigned two days before the season opened and took a playing job with Anniston.

It Happens Everywhere
The St. Louis Browns, as might be expected, got in early on the diamond oddities. First Doc
Tracy, the psychologist, told Dick Kokus, "stand up there and hit a home run." Dick did. The doc must have been looking the other way when Pitcher Cliff Fanning, chasing fungoes in the outfield, stepped in a hole and twisted, not his ankle but his neck.

Cliff was no worse off than ex-major leaguer Augie Galan of Oakland, who lost a fly ball in the lights and was hit smack on his head. Augie did play for Brooklyn for several years. And Detroit's Gerry Priddy was socked with a $100 fine for riding around town in a police car with a couple of detectives. He claimed

League Leaders

By The Associated Press

American League
Batting — Doby, Cleveland .423;
Groth, Detroit .389.

Runs — Pesky, Boston 18, Di-Maggio and Williams, Boston and Rizzuto, New York 12.

Runs Batted In — Stephens, Boston 19; Williams, Boston and Di-Maggio, New York 13.

Hits — Zarilla and Pesky, Boston 20.
Doubles — Zarilla, Boston 8, Di-Maggio, New York and Wood, St.
Louis 5.

Triples — Henrich and DiMaggio, New York; Doerr, Boston and Dillinger, Philadelphia 2.

Home Runs — Williams, Boston
4, Pate, Philadelphia, Wood and Kokus, St. Louis 3.

Stolen Bases — Dillinger, Philadelphia 2, Eleven tied with 1.

National League
Batting — Musial, St. Louis .433;
Dark, New York .423.

Runs — Jones and Waitkus, Philadelphia 14.
Runs Batted In — Jones, Philadelphia 15; Westlake, Pittsburgh 14.

Hits — Jones, Philadelphia 20;
Ennis, Philadelphia 19.

Doubles — Robinson, Brooklyn and Smalley, Chicago 5.

McDermott
May Have
That LessonBy JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Credit the New York Yankees with an assist should Maurice (Don't Call Me Mickey) McDermott fulfill his promise of developing into a winning hurler with the Boston Red Sox.

A Red Sox official, who shall remain unidentified, would have you believe that the un-morciful trouncing the Bronx Bombers handed McDermott at the Yankee stadium a week ago today was a blessing in disguise.

During the recent spring drills when McDermott was causing Manager McCarthy to spend sleepless nights with his indifferent performances, a Sox official confided:
"That McDermott could become a great pitcher if only he gets serious about his job. The trouble with him is that he's too cocky. He believes all those flowery words written about him in the papers.
He hasn't spent a full season in the big leagues and already he is convinced he's a second Lefty Grove."

"What he needs," the club spokesman continued, "is a good pummeling. If some club could pin his ears back—but good—he might get some sense into his head and realize he must produce first and strut later."

McDermott got his pummeling all right. The Yankees took care of that last Wednesday. A dozen men faced McDermott in less than two innings and eight reached base. Four solid hits including a pair of home runs produced four runs in the first inning. A hit and three bases on balls furnished another run in the second and sent McDermott to a quick shower.

It seems that was the lesson McDermott needed. In his very next start, Maury pitched one of the best games of his big league career. That came yesterday when he hurled the Red Sox to a 6-1 triumph over the Cleveland Indians.

In the defeat by Mobile Tuesday night, witnessed by 552 Little Rock diehards, the Bears helped Little Rock along toward breaking an ignominious Southern record—one held by Mobile itself.

Twenty games lost in a spring is the record set by Mobile in August and September, 1917. The Travs are two thirds of the way toward matching that unpleasantness.

BLONDIE

OZARK IKE

Wading Bird

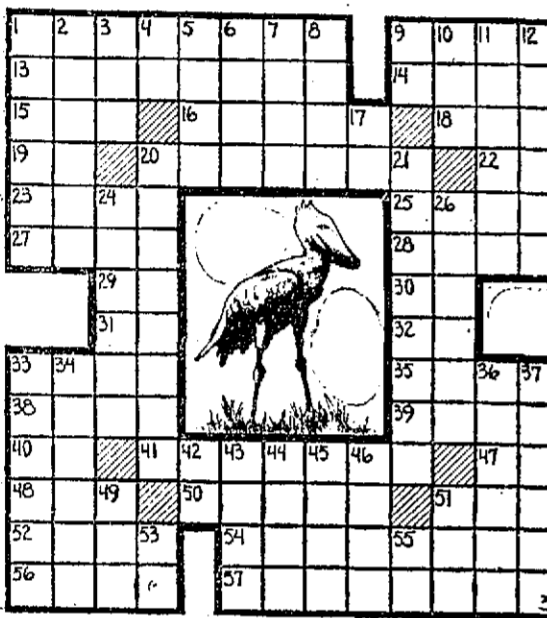

HORIZONTAL

- 1 Depleted
- 2 Wading bird
- 3 It is found along the White
- 4 Island near Australia
- 5 Spoken
- 6 Exist
- 7 Tree fruit
- 8 Greek letter
- 9 Psyche part
- 10 Defame
- 11 Palm lily
- 12 Nevada city
- 13 Undecided
- 14 Clip
- 15 Painful
- 16 Exclamation
- 17 Comparative suffix
- 18 Caisus Julius (ab.)
- 19 Preposition
- 20 Sacred bull
- 21 Pivot
- 22 Stoup
- 23 Jacob's brother
- 24 Ruthenium (symbol)
- 25 Abrades
- 26 Chromium (ab.)
- 27 War god
- 28 Enjoy
- 29 Footlike part
- 30 Grant
- 31 Exude
- 32 Arabian gulf
- 33 Unshaded

- VERTICAL
- 1 Means of ascent
 - 2 Indurate

Answer to Previous Puzzle

PAUL McGRATH
 ALICE TODD
 TITUS
 RAP
 PACES REPLETE TRESSIES
 NICOTINIC
 WATER
 PERMEABLE
 IT IS NATIVE TO FLOWED
 SNAKES
 FOSTERS
 CESIUM (ab.)

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. Williams

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

With Major Hoople

FUNNY BUSINESS

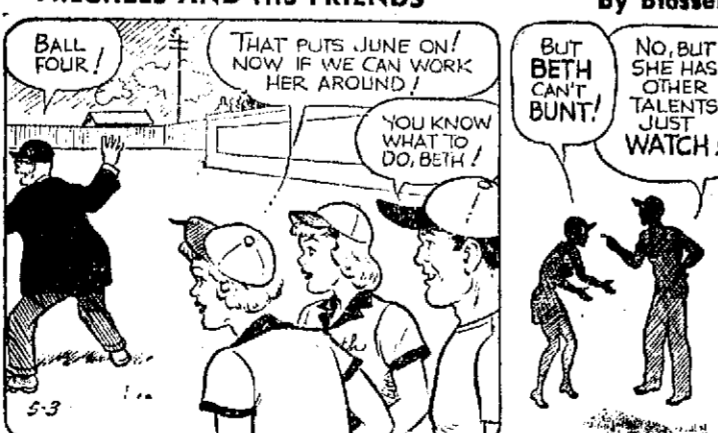

By Hershberger

"It's for collectors—it pops out when you push the button!"

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

By Blosser

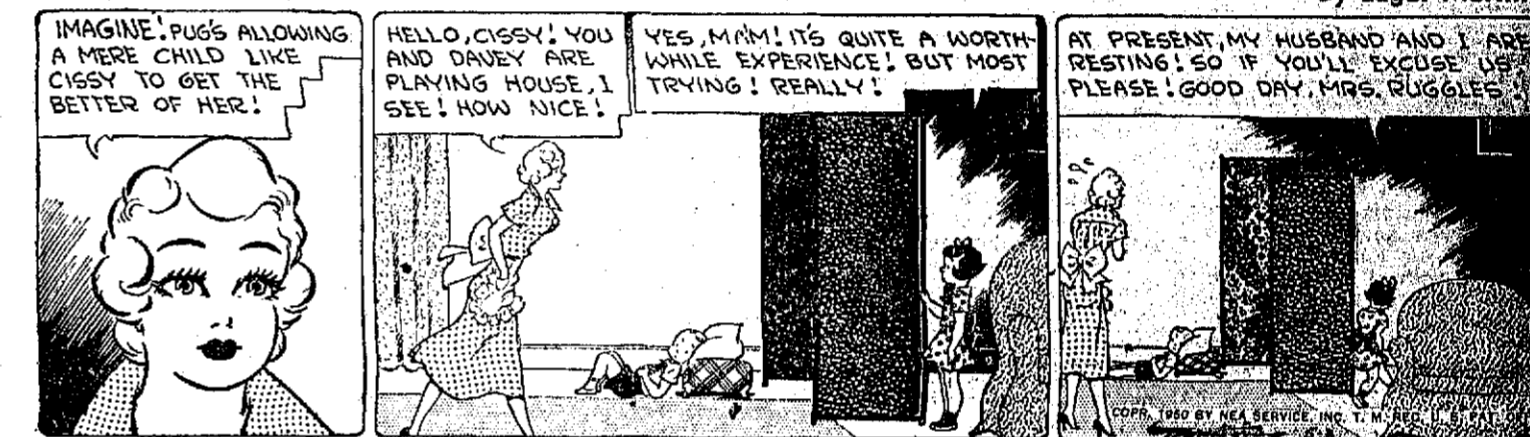

VIC FLINT

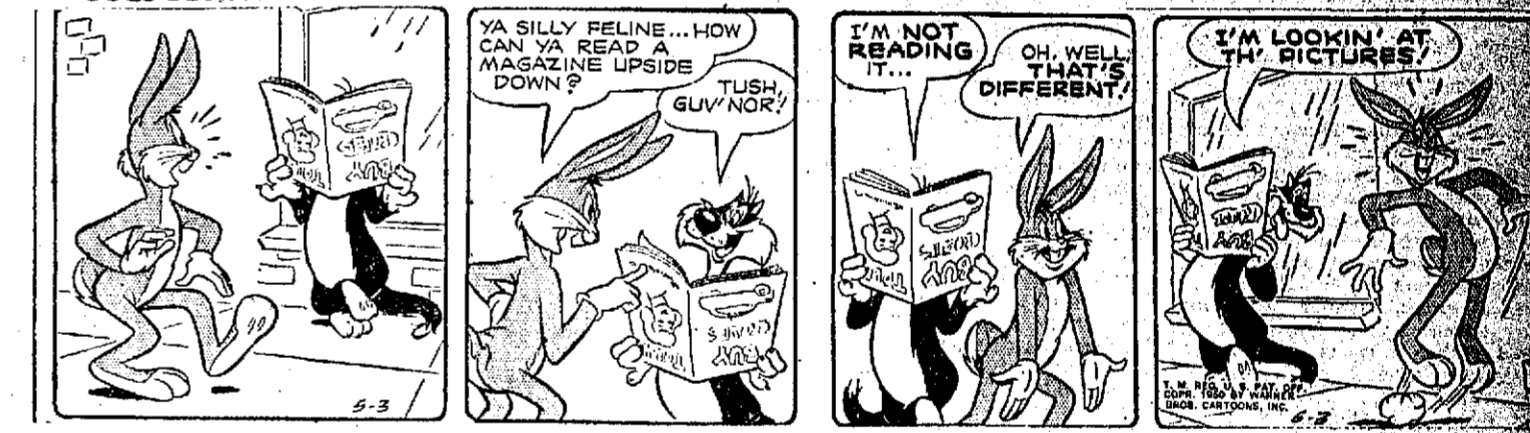

WASH TUBBS

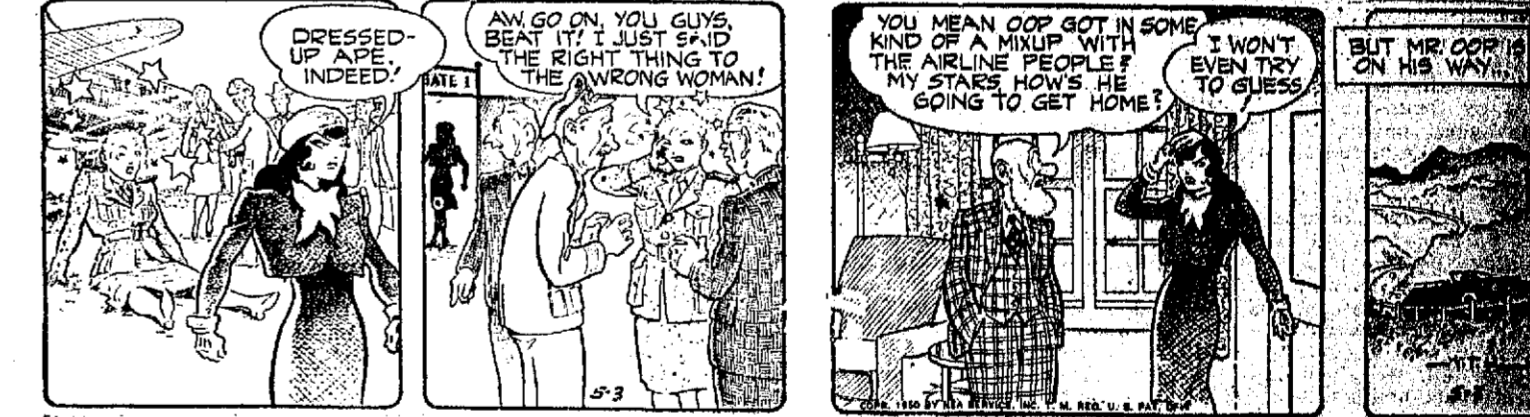

SCOTS

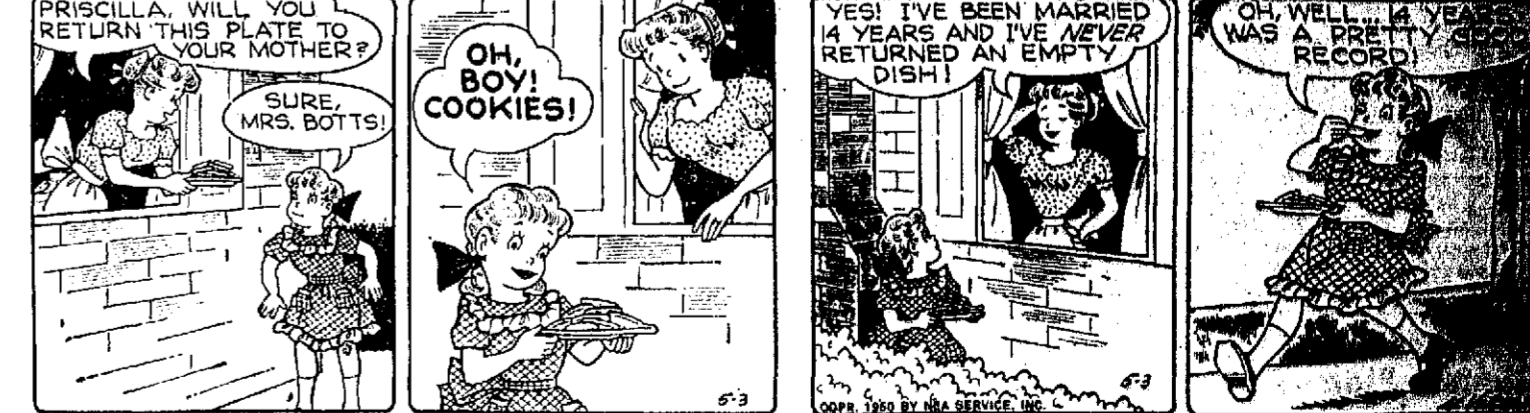

BUGS BUNNY

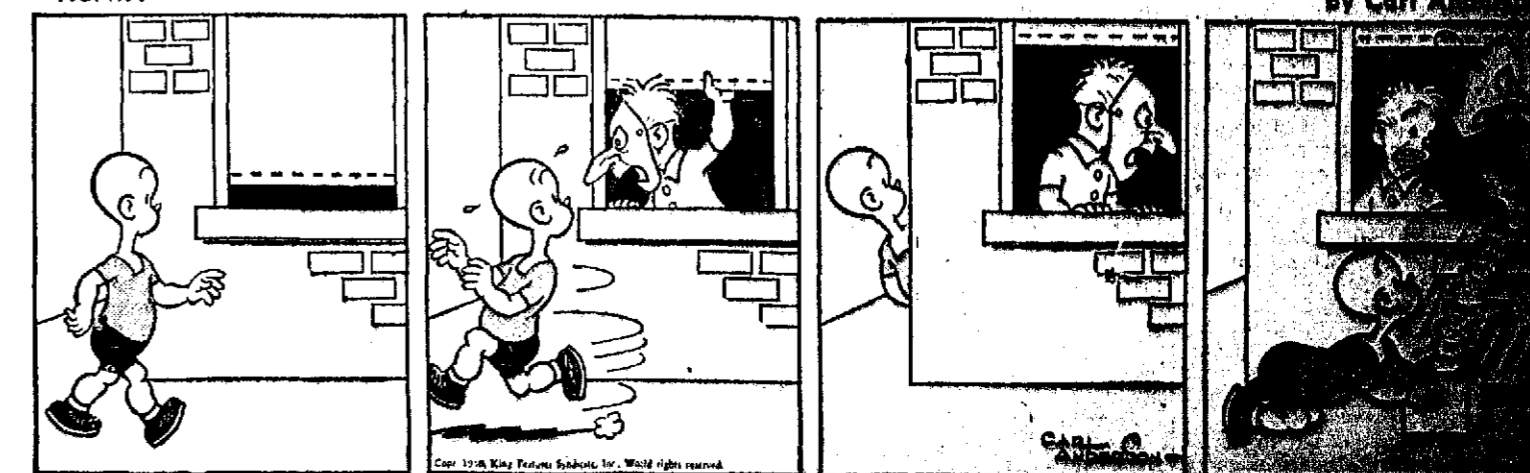

ALLEY OOP

PRISCILLA'S POP

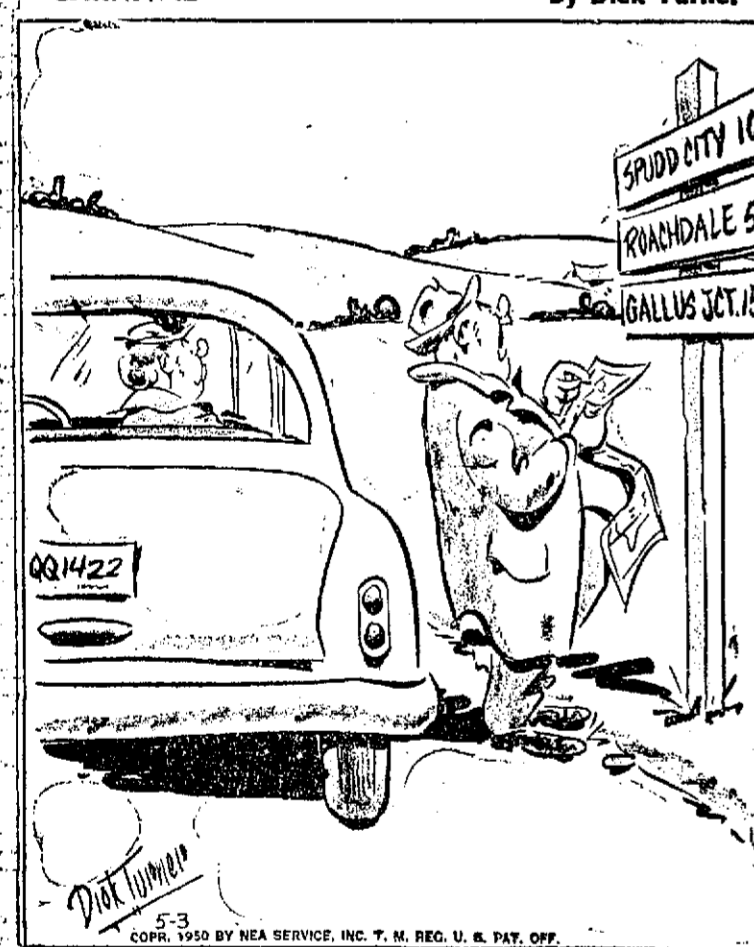

HENRY

CARNIVAL

By Dick Turner

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbreith

"If that's Mrs. Jones, tell her I'll sit with the kids for cash only—no more home permanents or home-made blouses!"

Dennis Was a Fraud But So Was Thomas

JAMES MARLOW

Washington, May 2 — (AP) — The American Communist party has been able to sink its roots in American life. It has no broad mass following.

The party proclaims itself the champion of the workers. But it has never been able to get its ideas across to the man of the workers. The party big-wigs speak and write in a jargon, Marxian jargon, that the workers' heads.

This may be deliberate. If so, it is an expression of contempt for the workers. If not, then it's due to inability to speak or write any better.

Perhaps the party doesn't want a mass following but wants only a tightly-knit, well-disciplined, small membership. That in itself would be contempt for the workers.

At any rate, after 30 years' activity in this country, the party's fortunes now are at low ebb. Getting worse. How much of that is due to the kind of leadership the party has had through its history?

Future scholars will be better able to answer that when they come to write the history of our times.

But if Eugene Dennis is an example of the party's top leadership, he ought to be, since he's been one of the very top — it's small wonder the party has missed the boat a mile in getting its ideas across.

Dennis was to state a case for the Communists. With him he brought a 19-page statement which he said would just be to be sure the press wouldn't miss a line of it. He brought a bundle of copies along.

The story was going to get a lot of publicity. If Dennis had been clever, he might have turned the hearing into a sounding board for his party. But he muffed his chance, made a mess of his appearance, and wound up in jail.

There were two things strange about this hearing. Dennis' real name was Francis Xavier Waldron. He had changed it to Dennis in 1932. And J. Parnell Thomas was not the real name of the committee chairman. His name had been J. Parnell Feeney but he had changed it Thomas years ago.

Dennis knew this. He almost must have realized since he had been investigated up and down by the FBI — that his own real name, Waldron, was known to Thomas, who used to be Feeney.

As usual with all witnesses, Dennis was asked to state his name. He said it was Eugene Dennis. Thomas asked him his real name. Dennis said it was Dennis. Thomas said he wanted the real name.

It was a beautiful chance to Dennis to spring a sensation and take the play away from Thomas by saying something like: "I'll tell my real name. It is Francis Xavier Waldron. Now you tell the people, Mr. Thomas, that your real name is J. Parnell Feeney."

Instead, Dennis shouted his name was Dennis. Thomas shouted he wanted Dennis' real name. The hearing broke up without Dennis having a chance to read his statement which was why he had come here in the first place.

So the stories went out and, instead of shoring the headlines with Thomas-Feeney, Dennis and his party looked silly. Immediately, Dennis called a news conference and there related that Thomas' name was Feeney.

But even then Dennis was so proud in his public relations and getting his ideas across to the public which was why he had called the news conference, that he tried to make a speech.

Some of the newsmen were surprised by Dennis' almost juvenile performance, having thought the boss of the Communist party was a shrewder than that.

Remember, Dennis asked to testify before the committee. But when he balked on his name, the committee ordered him to return on April 9 and answer questions. The committee was telling him now. He wasn't asking.

He refused to appear, was cited for contempt, was found guilty in federal court and got the maximum sentence: One year in jail and a fine of $1,000. He appealed but was turned down yesterday by the Supreme court.

So he'll have to serve his sentence. Meanwhile, since 1947 he and 10 other party leaders were found guilty in federal court of conspiracy to teach overthrow of the government. Each got five years. And meanwhile, Thomas-Feeney himself was shown to be a fraud. He was found guilty in federal court of defrauding the government on his payrolls and now is serving a sentence of six to 18 months.

Describes the Brannan Plan as Subsidy Issue

Russellville, May 2 — (AP) — The American Farm Bureau federation president said today the Brannan plan would have a tendency to "standardize farm production on a relatively low level of efficiency."

In a speech prepared for delivery at Arkansas Tech Agri day here, Allen B. Rine attacked the secretary's proposal as one that would put the farmers at the mercy of the government for their net incomes.

He described the Brannan plan as one holding out "high price guarantees to farmers and promising low prices to consumers, with the difference made up in direct subsidies."

Rine said to parcel out the privilege of producing food at a guaranteed profitable price, the gov-

MACFADDEN VIEWS THE NEWS—Bernarr Macfadden, 81-year-old publisher and health enthusiast, goes through his daily paper while giving an interview to reporter Paul Coates. Macfadden had just leased the Arrowhead Springs Hotel for a physical culture resort, where he will teach his theory of "Adam Power."

PRESCOTT NEWS

Wednesday, May 3

The Session of the First Presbyterian church will meet Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock for the monthly meeting.

There will be mid-week services at the First Christian church Wednesday evening at 7:30.

There will be a prayer service at the Central Baptist church Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Mid-week services at the First Baptist church Wednesday evening will be as follows: 7 o'clock, officers and teachers meeting; 7:45 prayer meeting; 8:30 choir rehearsal.

Thursday, May 4
The W. C. T. U. will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Jack Cooper.

The choir of the First Presbyterian church will meet at 7:30 Thursday evening for rehearsal.

Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, church visitation night will be held at the First Baptist church.

The choir of the First Methodist church will meet Thursday evening for rehearsal.

Typhoid clinics will be held at Bodaw and Falcon May 4, 11, and 18. The schedule for these clinics is as follows: Falcon, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. each week; Bodaw 1 to 3:30 p.m. each week. All who have not had typhoid immunization the past year will be required to have these shots. Those who have kept their shots up yearly will need only a booster shot.

PTA Study Group Has Meeting
The study group of the Parent Teachers association met on Friday morning in the Educational building of the Methodist church for an all day study under the direction of Mrs. Glenn Hairston, Parent education chairman.

The meeting was opened with the singing of America followed with prayer by Mrs. H. H. McKenzie.

Mrs. Jack Robey and Mrs. Carl Delrymple gave discussions on preschool topics "Does Punishment Pay?" and "Parent and Pediatrician." Mrs. J. I. McCartney presented the topic "Sex Education in the elementary group after which the meeting adjourned for a pot luck luncheon.

For the afternoon study Mrs. Edward Bryson gave the topic "Learning to Like the Best." Mrs. Gene Hale and Mrs. Charles Scott gave talks on the junior and senior topics "Sharing is Fulfillment" and "Struggle for Independence." An interesting round label discussion was held. The meeting adjourned with prayer by Mrs. Hairston.

Womans Circle of Presbyterian Church Observes Birthday
The Womens circle of the Presbyterian church met on Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Mary Montgomery with Mrs. D. L. McRae, Sr. co-hostess for the monthly meeting and to observe its twenty-eighth birthday anniversary.

Lovely arrangements of pink roses graced the rooms. Mrs. S. O. Logan, president, presided. The meeting was opened with the group repeating the theme for the year "Looking Unto Jesus Let us go to Maturity." Mrs. J. I. McCartney led in prayer.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the ernment would have to allot such privileges by head to the inefficient and efficient alike.

"The consumer pays the cost of food, whether directly or by way of Washington, and the latter route is far the more expensive."

He said government farm programs, including price supports, are necessary to protect agriculture from unreasonable price declines and to protect the public from the consequences of a farm depression.

University Sells Bonds
Little Rock, May 2 — (AP) — The University of Arkansas yesterday sold $325,000 of bonds to finance houses and one sorority house.

Womelordoff and Lindsey Co., Little Rock, and the Equitable Securities Corp., Nashville, Tenn., were the successful bidders with an offer of 2.78 interest.

The houses will be leased to the Greek letter organizations, which will finance part of the cost, and title will be retained by the university.

Mediators Try to Halt UP Strike

New York, May 2 — (AP) — A federal mediator began efforts today to open new negotiations in the two-day-old teletype operators' strike against the United Press.

Meanwhile the news service said its nationwide operations continued on an almost normal scale. Supervisory employees manned teletype machines in 35 domestic relay bureaus.

Mediator J. R. Mandelbaum said he would meet with the UP management at 1:30 p. m. (EST) and with the striking AFL commercial telegraphers union at 3 p. m.

The strike began at midnight Sunday when bargaining collapsed with the parties more than $4 apart on weekly wage demands.

The strikers in the CTU's UP unit total 230 teletype operators and 35 printer maintenance men.

One by-product of the strike yesterday was the United States department of labor shutting off its UP printer in Washington. Like many government agencies, the labor department subscribes to news services.

A department official, explaining the action, said "we respect picket lines and regarded continued use of the printer as crossing a picket line."

Weather Getting Nearly Normal in Most Areas

By The Associated Press

There was a lot of wet weather across the country today but some nearly normal spring temperatures appeared in prospect for much of the chilled midwest.

Rain pelted areas from southern Virginia and into Texas and eastern Oklahoma. The heaviest falls were in Texas, with a fall of 1.88 inches in six hours last night at Fort Worth. Dallas reported a fall of 1.14 inches in one hour.

Streams from Lufkin to Lubbock rose to danger points. There also were some showers in the Gulf states.

Rain mixed with snow fell over the Dakotas, central Minnesota, Idaho, northern Utah and western Wyoming. There was rain along the Pacific coast from northern California northward.

Warmer weather spread over the Plains states and was moving eastward. However, early morning readings in the midwest, as well as in the northern Rockies and the northeastern part of the country were below normal. Coldest point was Cadillac, Mich., with a mark of 23. At the same time, San Antonio reported 71.

Dr. and Mrs. Pierce Noble and children Fran and Sandy of Texarkana were the week-end guests of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Harrell and daughter Amelia and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Buchanan at Buck Lodge.

Otho Hesterly has returned to Ouachita college, Arkadelphia after a visit with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hesterly.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl King, Jr. had as their guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swain and children Nancy and Tommy of Cornpus Christi, Tex. Mr. Tom Swain and Mrs. Myrtle Davis of England.

Bob Elgin, student at Henderson State Teachers college, Arkadelphia, spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Lucille Elgin.

Mrs. Roy L. Duke has returned from Little Rock where she was called on account of the illness of her Aunt Miss Loomis Shell.

Miss Sue Jones has resumed her studies at State Teachers college Conway after a visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Horace Jones.

Mrs. John McGill had as her week-end guests Miss Willette Owsley and John T. Westbay of Rogers.

Elwood Robinson has returned to El Dorado after a visit with Mrs. Robinson and their daughter.

Herman Ackerman of Vermoda, Okla. was the week-end guest of Mrs. H. H. Allen and Mrs. Thorne Hesterly. Mrs. Ackerman and their little son Johnny accompanied him home after a weeks visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Thomas spent Sunday in Conway with their son Jim, student at Hendrix college.

Miss Loyce Stewart has returned to Little Rock after a visit with her mother, Mrs. Bob Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Eagle were the Sunday guests of their daughters Miss Nona Katherine, who attends Hendrix college, Conway.

Mrs. Charles A. Haynes has returned from Washington, D. C. where she attended the 59th Continental Congress, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Man Who Killed His Mother Is a Suicide
New York, May 2 — (AP) — A Brooklyn man killed his 81-year-old, semi-invalid mother with a black-jack and committed suicide yesterday.

Police theorized that the son — planning suicide because of poor health and financial losses — decided to kill his mother first rather than leave her without his care.

The deaths of Mrs. Mary Block and her son, Gaston Block, Jr., 47, were listed officially as murder and suicide.

The body of the aged mother, killed by blows on the head, was found covered by a clean white sheet in their home.

The son died of an overdose of sleeping pills.

Police learned the mother had been a semi-invalid since she suffered a broken hip in a fall five years ago. The son had been ill of heart trouble for several years.

The son lost $20,000 in bad investments out of a $30,000 trust fund. The money had been left to him and his mother by his father, who died ten years ago after making considerable money in the perfume business.

Bees sometimes carry insecticides into their hives, killing the entire brood.

Clubs

Columbus

The Columbus home demonstration club met in April at the school lunch room.

Mrs. J. E. DeLaney, president, called the meeting to order. The club creed was repeated by the group. The devotionals were given by Mrs. B. C. Webb and Mrs. J. O. Johnson led in prayer. The roll call was answered with "Something I have remodeled in my home."

During the business session, plans were made for National Home Demonstration Club Week and for Amateur Night. Ten pair of shorts and four pair of pillow cases were turned in for the Cripple Children's Home.

The home industry leader, Mrs. F. Caldwell, gave a demonstration on making slip covers.

Mrs. C. R. White and Mrs. Fred Caldwell conducted the recreational period. Prizes were won by Mrs. Tommy McCorkle and Mrs. L. K. Boyce, Jr.

After the meeting adjourned, refreshments were served to eleven members by the hostesses, Mrs. Fred Caldwell and Mrs. Herbert Sipes.

Sweet Home

The Sweet Home home demonstration club met in April with Mrs. Floyd Wood.

Mrs. Zack Stone, president, presided over the meeting. The group repeated the home demonstration club Woman's Creed. The devotionals, Romans 12: 1-6, was given by the hostess, followed by all repeating the Lord's Prayer. The song of the month, "Sing Your Way Home," was sung by the group.

The roll call was answered with "Something I have remodeled in my home." The old and new business was discussed. Leaders in charge gave interesting information on poultry, home grounds, and garden and orchard.

Mrs. Dale Woodson received the surprise package. After the meeting adjourned cake and drinks were served to twenty members and Mrs. Lorraine Blackwood, home demonstration agent.

The club will meet in May with Mrs. H. E. Nolen.

24 Club
The Twenty-Nine home demonstration club met in April in the home of Mrs. Verdo Powell.

The American Creed was repeated by the group. The hostess read the devotionals, followed by prayer. The roll call was answered with "Something I have remodeled in my home." The demonstration on making slip covers was given by Mrs. Powell assisted by Mrs. George Lafferty.

Mrs. Lafferty won the surprise package brought by Mrs. Milo Sheppard.

Refreshments were served to six members and one visitor, Mrs. Wayne McKinkins from Dallas, Tex.

The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. Chester May in May.

Ozan-St. Paul
The Ozan St. Paul home demonstration club met in April at the home of the president, Mrs. Monroe Stuart, with nine members and two visitors present.

The meeting was called to order and the woman's creed was given in unison. Miss Annie Fontaine read Romans 12: 1-6 and led the group in the Lord's Prayer. The roll call was answered with "Something I have remodeled in my home." The hostess displayed a very old glass barrel oil lamp that she had made into an electric lamp.

Miss Alma Hanna acted as secretary and read the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved. The group decided to cooperate in the May day fish fry at St. Paul as the Club's National Home Demonstration Week gets together. The garden, poultry and landscape leaders gave reports.

Mrs. Floyd Matthews led the group in two contests. Mrs. Monroe Stuart and Mrs. Ben Stuart won the prizes.

Mrs. Byers and Mrs. James Lewis joined the club. Mrs. Ben Stuart and Mrs. Nannie Stuart were guests.

The club will meet in May with Mrs. Floyd Matthews. Mrs. Louis Stuart will give a demonstration.

Hinton
A profusion of spring flowers decorated the home of Mrs. Stella Adams for the April meeting of the Hinton Home demonstration club. The meeting opened with the group repeating the home demonstration Woman's creed, followed by the devotionals and prayer given by the hostess. Minutes of the March meeting were read and approved, and the treasurer's report was given.

Mrs. Clyde Rodgers, vice president, presided over the business meeting. A play was decided upon for the Amateur Night program and parts chosen. Each member was asked to bring to the next meeting her articles for the National home demonstration club week display. The articles were sent to the Arkansas Crippled Children's Home later.

Refreshments were served to the seven members present during the recreation period. The May meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Clyde Rodgers.

Baker
Making a slip cover for a club chair with straight cushion was the demonstration given by Mrs. Orville Steadman, assisted by Mrs. Lorraine Blackwood, home demonstration agent, at the Baker home demonstration club meeting Friday, April 14, at the home of Mrs. Steadman.

The meeting was called to order by the president Mrs. James Lauterbach. The group repeated the "American Creed" and the song "Sing your way Home" was sung.

sung. The devotionals, taken from the 12th Chapter of Romans was read by Mrs. Steadman, followed by prayer by Mrs. Fred Smith. Each member present answered the roll call by telling "Something I have remodeled in my home."

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Fred Smith, served a dessert plate with drinks to nine members and five visitors, Mrs. Arlis Andrews, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Frank Yarbrough, Mrs. Gus Foster and Mrs. J. M. McGams.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Clifton Whitten, the demonstration "Short cuts in Sewing" to be given by Mrs. Art Mhoon.

Shover Springs
Spring flowers decorated the home of Mrs. Ruth Spradling for the April meeting of the Shover Springs home demonstration club.

The twenty-one members who answered the roll call, the two new members, Mrs. Gorge Walden and Mrs. Sid Skinner, seven visitors, and Mrs. Lorraine Blackwood, home demonstration agent, made a record attendance for this year.

Plans were completed for Amateur night. Arrangements were made to practice at the home of Mrs. C. D. Ross. Advance tickets were purchased by most of the members.

Fifteen egg dolls, made and donated by Mrs. Spradling, were sold at 10 cents each to raise money for the club treasure.

Mrs. Troy Greenlee gave some pointers on slip covering and color schemes. The door prize was won by one of the new members Mrs. Sid Skinner of the Oak Grove community.

The two winners of the surprise packages were Mrs. Howard Reese and Mrs. Greenlee. Mrs. Joe Englund has a birthday offering for the month.

Mrs. Spradling had a very attentive group as she gave a demonstration on retrimming hats. She told about the different type hats for different shaped faces.

Mrs. Spradling and co-hostesses, Mrs. Robert Ottwell and Mrs. E. Aaron, served refreshments to thirty-three people.

The May meeting will be at the community building with Mrs. Vernon Pate and Mrs. Arl Fincher as hostesses.

Nose Red and Raw due to a cold?

To relieve smarting irritation and help nature heal, smooth on a bit of gentle, soothing, carefully medicated

RESINOL OINTMENT

Penney's

SUMMER DRESS CARNIVAL

Woven Cottons

FOR YOU...AT WAY-DOWN-LOW PRICES!

ONLY

5.90

VALUES

BE SMART...BUY TWO!

Woven Cottons

FOR YOU...AT WAY-DOWN-LOW PRICES!

ONLY

5.90

VALUES

BE SMART...BUY TWO!

Woven Cottons

FOR YOU...AT WAY-DOWN-LOW PRICES!

ONLY

5.90

VALUES

BE SMART...BUY TWO!

Woven Cottons

FOR YOU...AT WAY-DOWN-LOW PRICES!

ONLY

5.90

VALUES

BE SMART...BUY TWO!

won by one of the new members Mrs. Sid Skinner of the Oak Grove community.

The two winners of the surprise packages were Mrs. Howard Reese and Mrs. Greenlee. Mrs. Joe Englund has a birthday offering for the month.

Mrs. Spradling had a very attentive group as she gave a demonstration on retrimming hats. She told about the different type hats for different shaped faces.

Mrs. Spradling and co-hostesses, Mrs. Robert Ottwell and Mrs. E. Aaron, served refreshments to thirty-three people.

The May meeting will be at the community building with Mrs. Vernon Pate and Mrs. Arl Fincher as hostesses.

Shover Springs
Spring flowers decorated the home of Mrs. Ruth Spradling for the April meeting of the Shover Springs home demonstration club.

The twenty-one members who answered the roll call, the two new members, Mrs. Gorge Walden and Mrs. Sid Skinner, seven visitors, and Mrs. Lorraine Blackwood, home demonstration agent, made a record attendance for this year.

Plans were completed for Amateur night. Arrangements were made to practice at the home of Mrs. C. D. Ross. Advance tickets were purchased by most of the members.

Fifteen egg dolls, made and donated by Mrs. Spradling, were sold at 10 cents each to raise money for the club treasure.

Mrs. Troy Greenlee gave some pointers on slip covering and color schemes. The door prize was won by one of the new members Mrs. Sid Skinner of the Oak Grove community.

The two winners of the surprise packages were Mrs. Howard Reese and Mrs. Greenlee. Mrs. Joe Englund has a birthday offering for the month.

Mrs. Spradling had a very attentive group as she gave a demonstration on retrimming hats. She told about the different type hats for different shaped faces.

Mrs. Spradling and co-hostesses, Mrs. Robert Ottwell and Mrs. E. Aaron, served refreshments to thirty-three people.

The May meeting will be at the community building with Mrs. Vernon Pate and Mrs. Arl Fincher as hostesses.

Shover Springs
Spring flowers decorated the home of Mrs. Ruth Spradling for the April meeting of the Shover Springs home demonstration club.

The twenty-one members who answered the roll call, the two new members, Mrs. Gorge Walden and Mrs. Sid Skinner, seven visitors, and Mrs. Lorraine Blackwood, home demonstration agent, made a record attendance for this year.

Plans were completed for Amateur night. Arrangements were made to practice at the home of Mrs. C. D. Ross. Advance tickets were purchased by most of the members.

Fifteen egg dolls, made and donated by Mrs. Spradling, were sold at 10 cents each to raise money for the club treasure.

Mrs. Troy Greenlee gave some pointers on slip covering and color schemes. The door prize was won by one of the new members Mrs. Sid Skinner of the Oak Grove community.

The two winners of the surprise packages were Mrs. Howard Reese and Mrs. Greenlee. Mrs. Joe Englund has a birthday offering for the month.

Mrs. Spradling had a very attentive group as she gave a demonstration on retrimming hats. She told about the different type hats for different shaped faces.

Mrs. Spradling and co-hostesses, Mrs. Robert Ottwell and Mrs. E. Aaron, served refreshments to thirty-three people.

The May meeting will be at the community building with Mrs. Vernon Pate and Mrs. Arl Fincher as hostesses.

Shover Springs
Spring flowers decorated the home of Mrs. Ruth Spradling for the April meeting of the Shover Springs home demonstration club.

The twenty-one members who answered the roll call, the two new members, Mrs. Gorge Walden and Mrs. Sid Skinner, seven visitors, and Mrs. Lorraine Blackwood, home demonstration agent, made a record attendance for this year.

Plans were completed for Amateur night. Arrangements were made to practice at the home of Mrs. C. D. Ross. Advance tickets were purchased by most of the members.